PART 1
Going Anywhere

CHAPTER 1

HOME

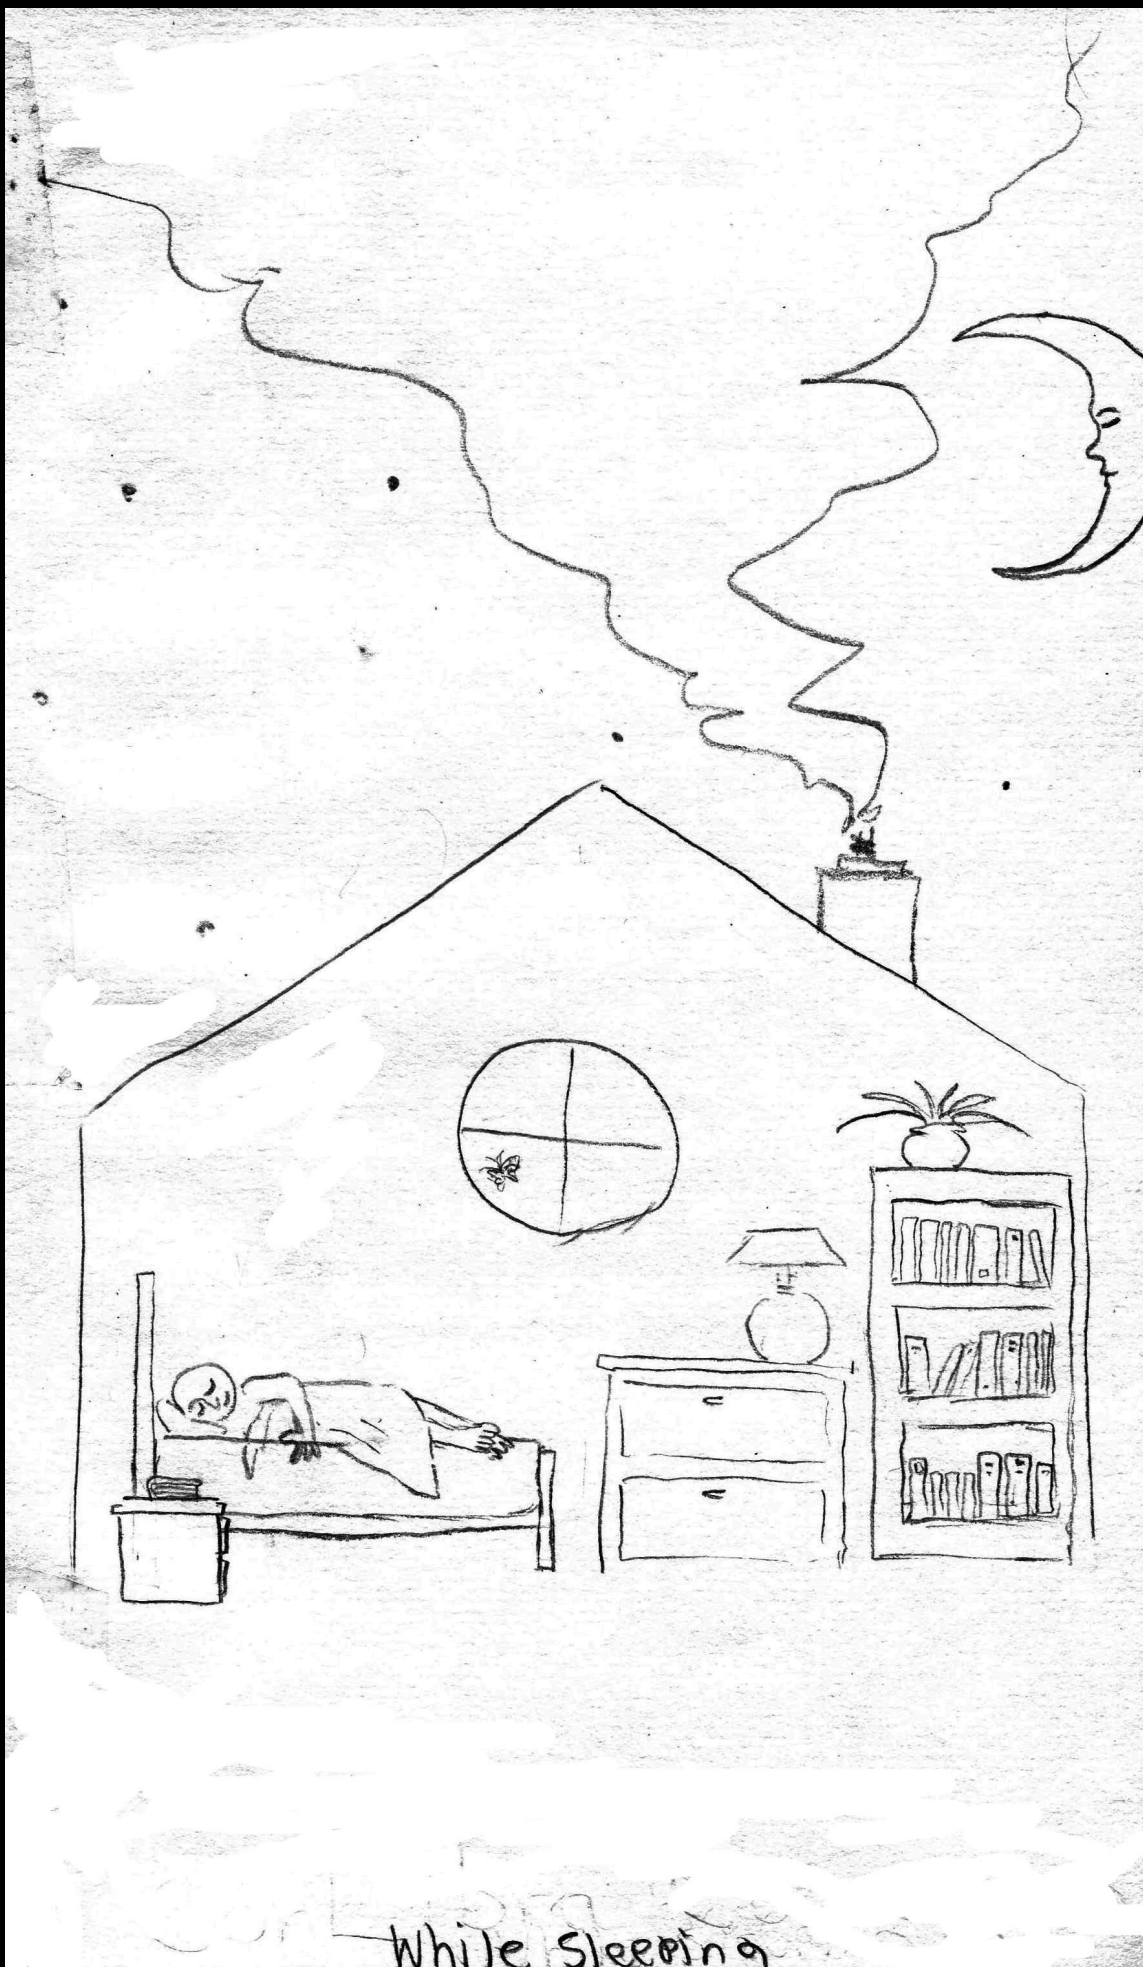

Once upon a time and place, there lived a child named One. One was a simple child, interested in simple things.

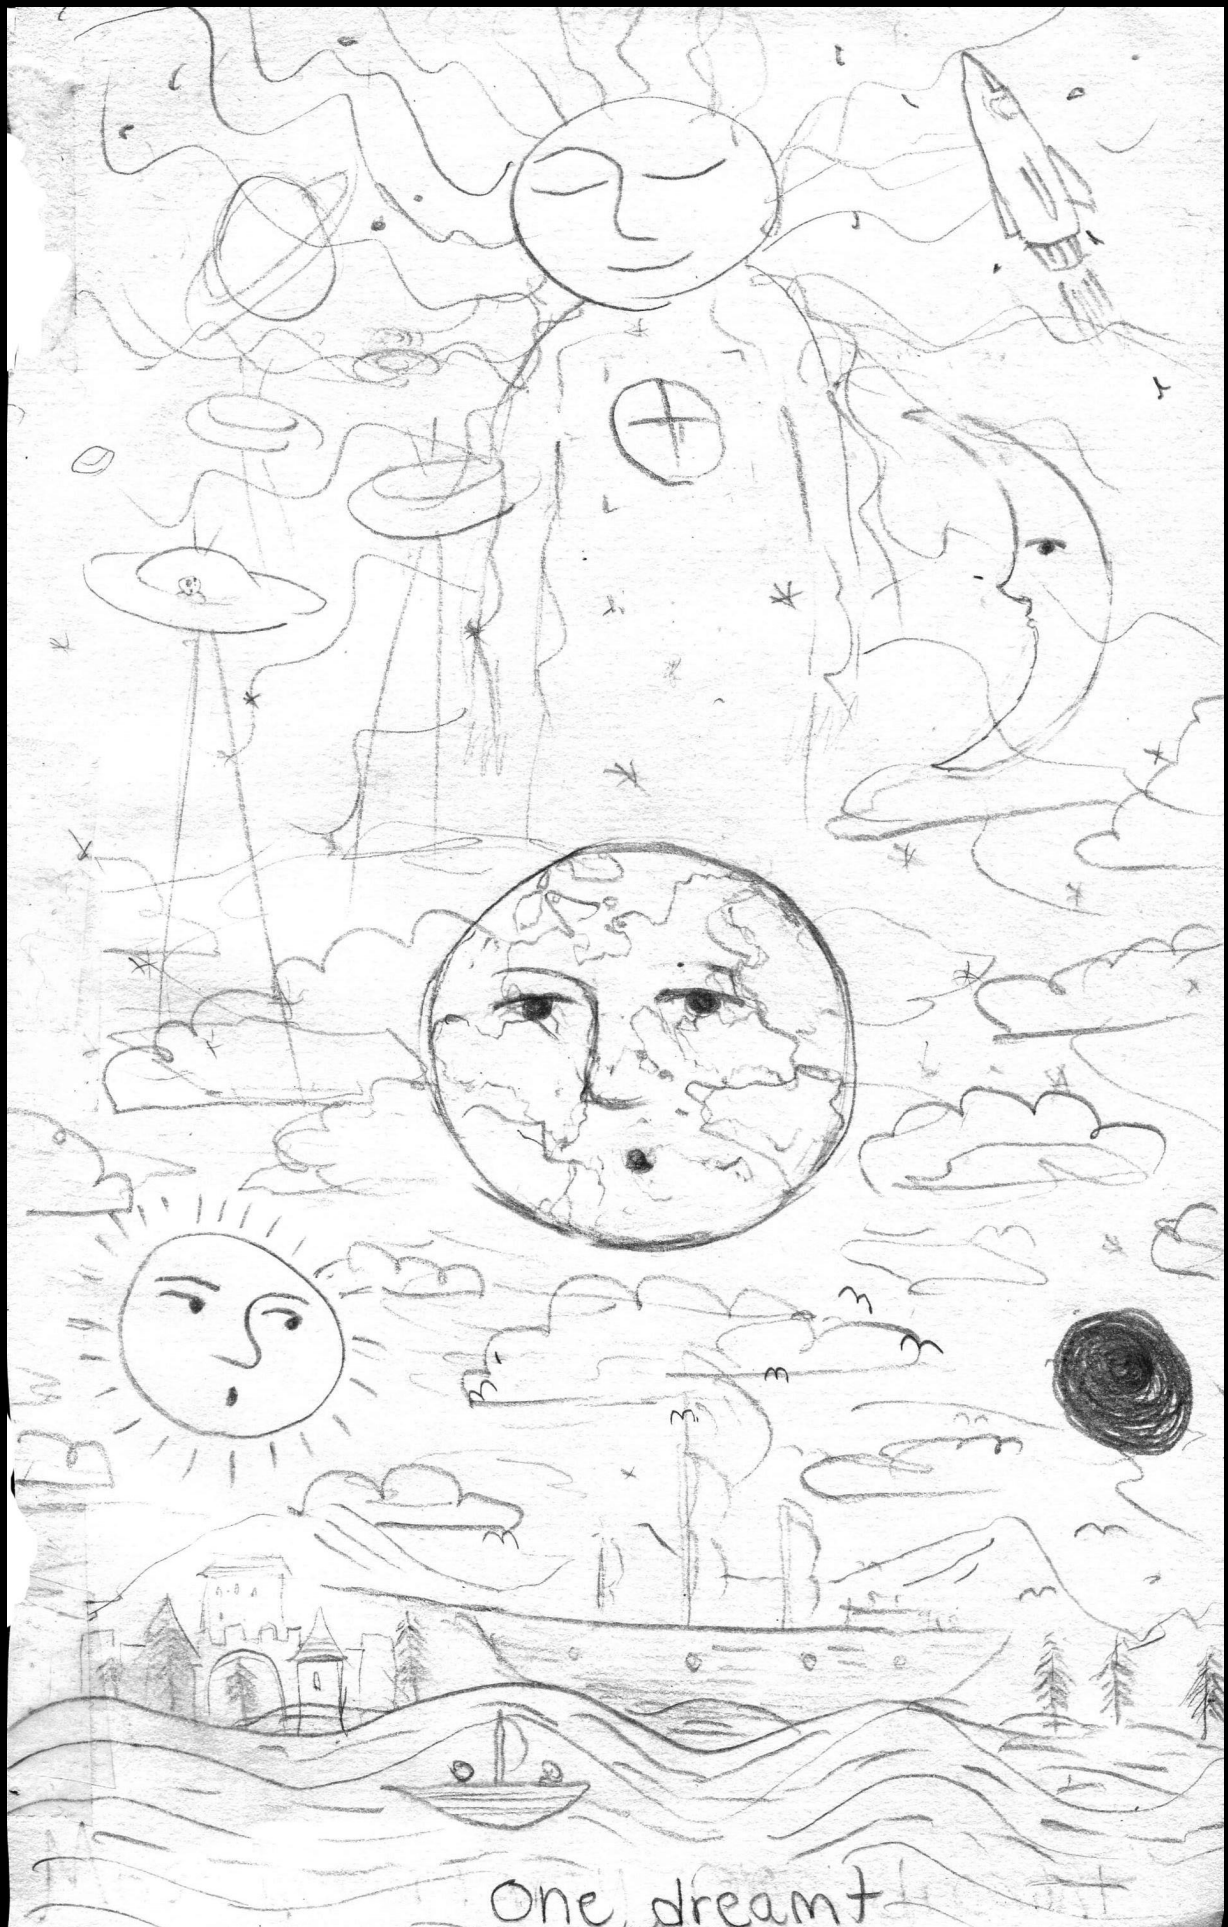

At home, one would learn to pursue and entertain those interests.

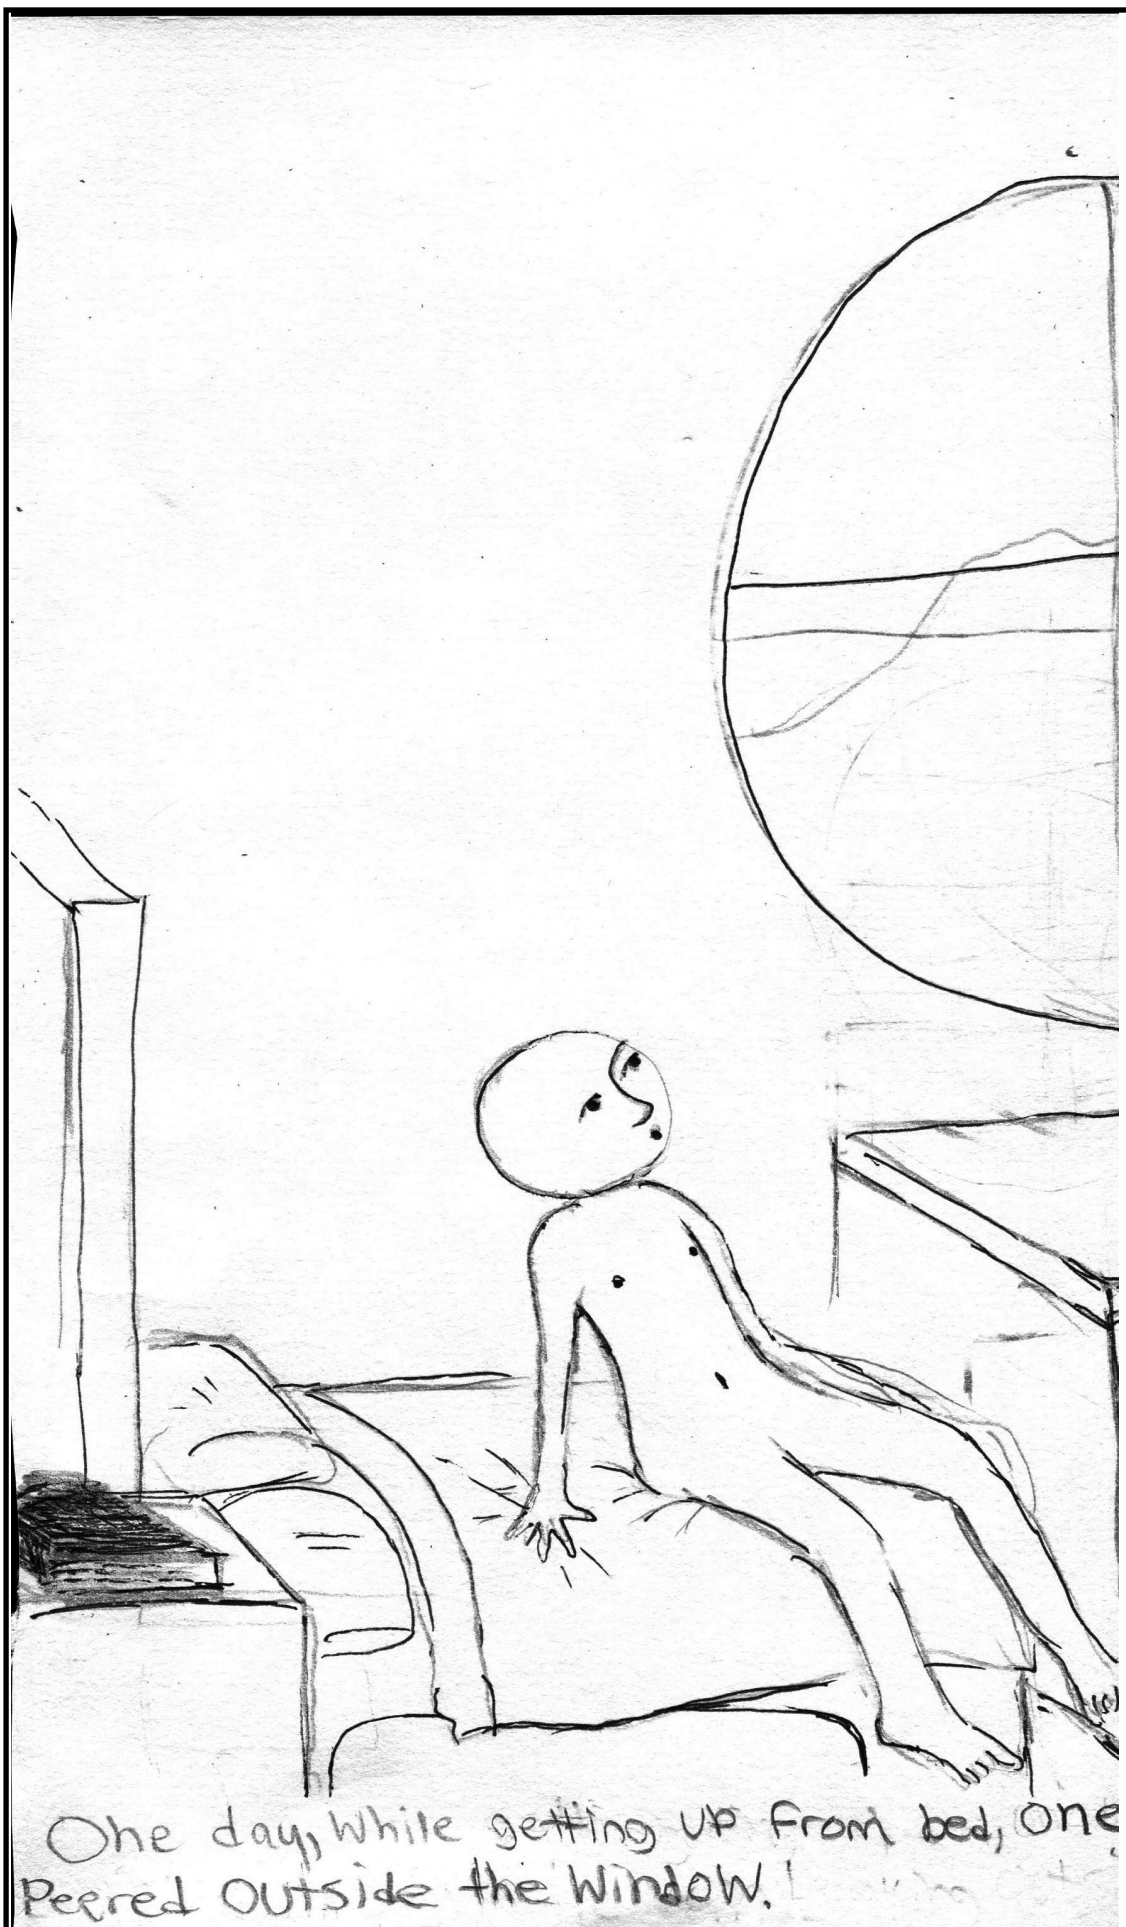

While Sleeping

One dreamt

One day, while getting up from bed, one Peered Outside the Window!

Pondering : 'What else could be out there, that was it in here... Inside

One looked at the butterflies, but wondered the point in catching them

One stared at blank papers and saw just that.

One searched thru all of the bookshelf, but saw nothing
worth reading

One became bored

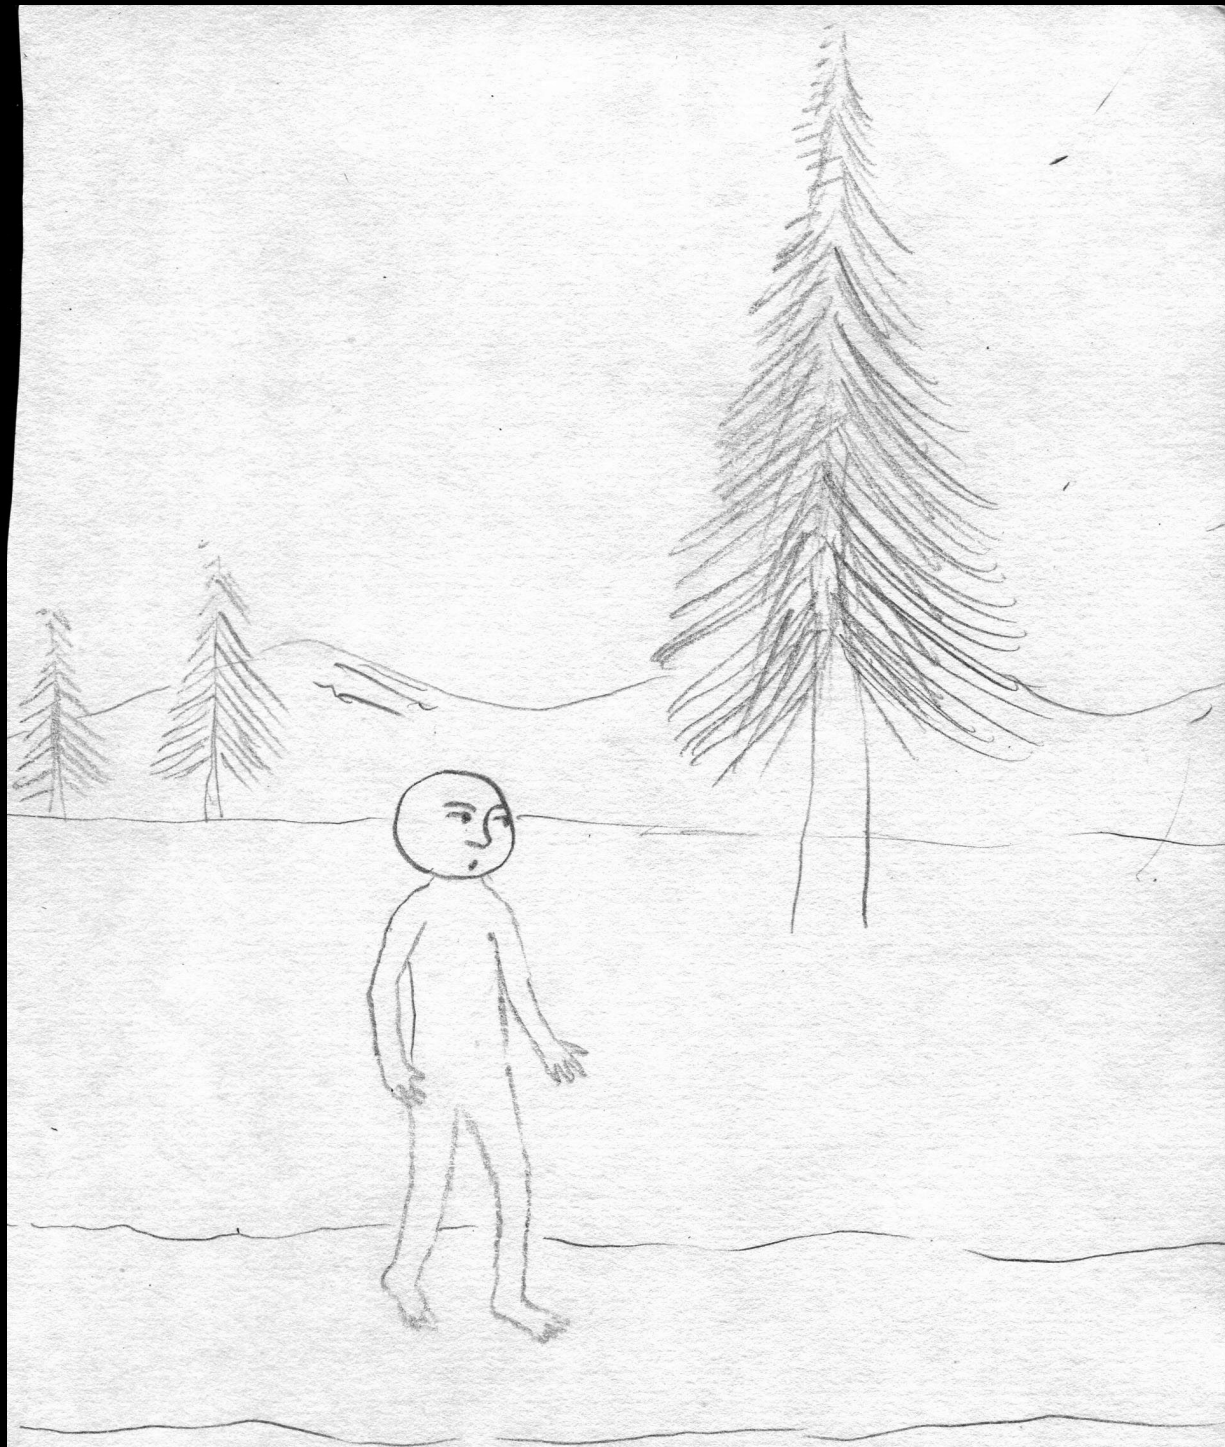

Sitting on the porch, one wondered if there was something out there or perhaps...

one left + home
In search of Somewhere

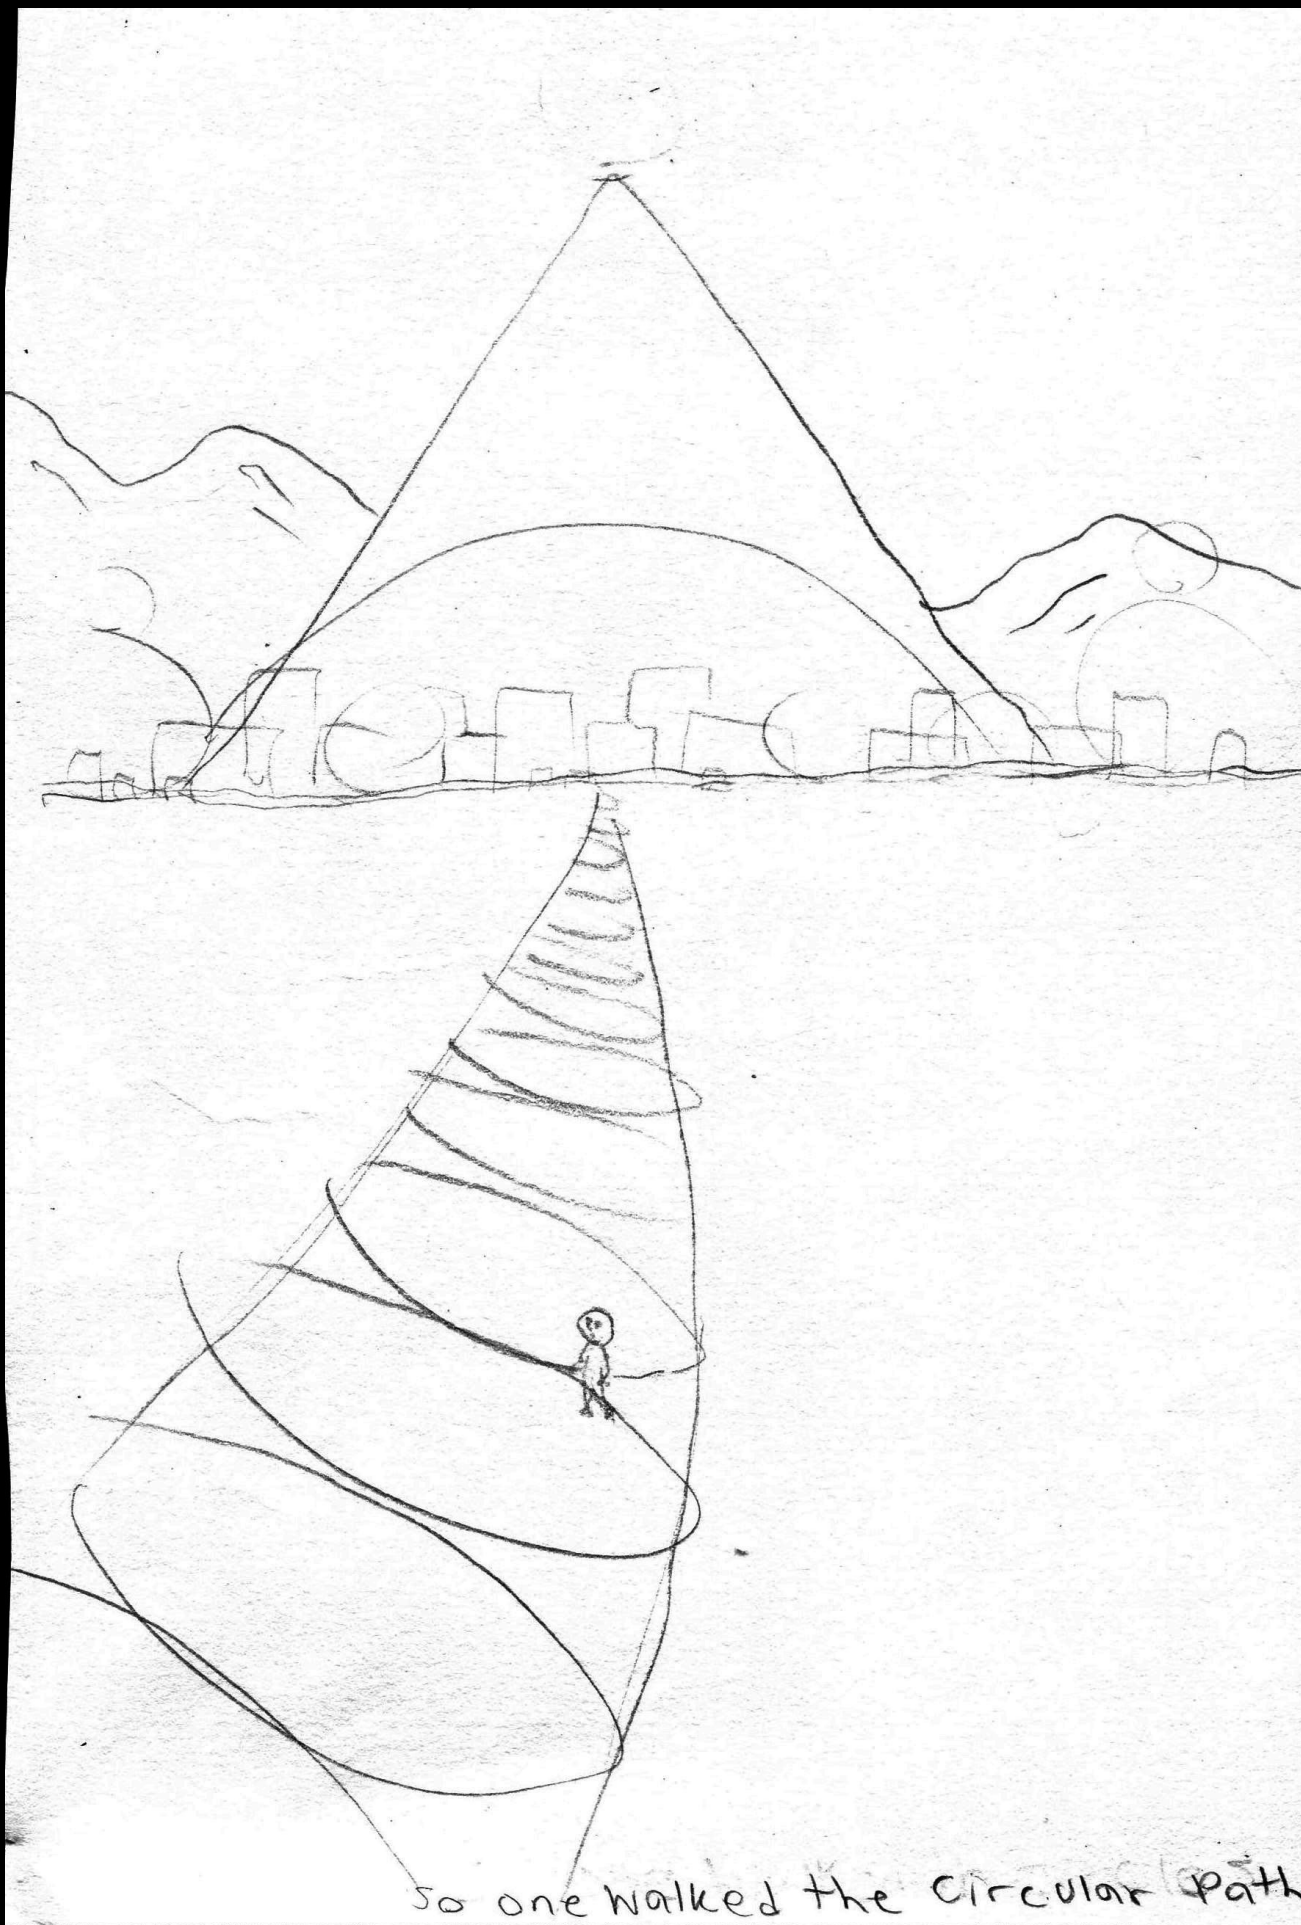

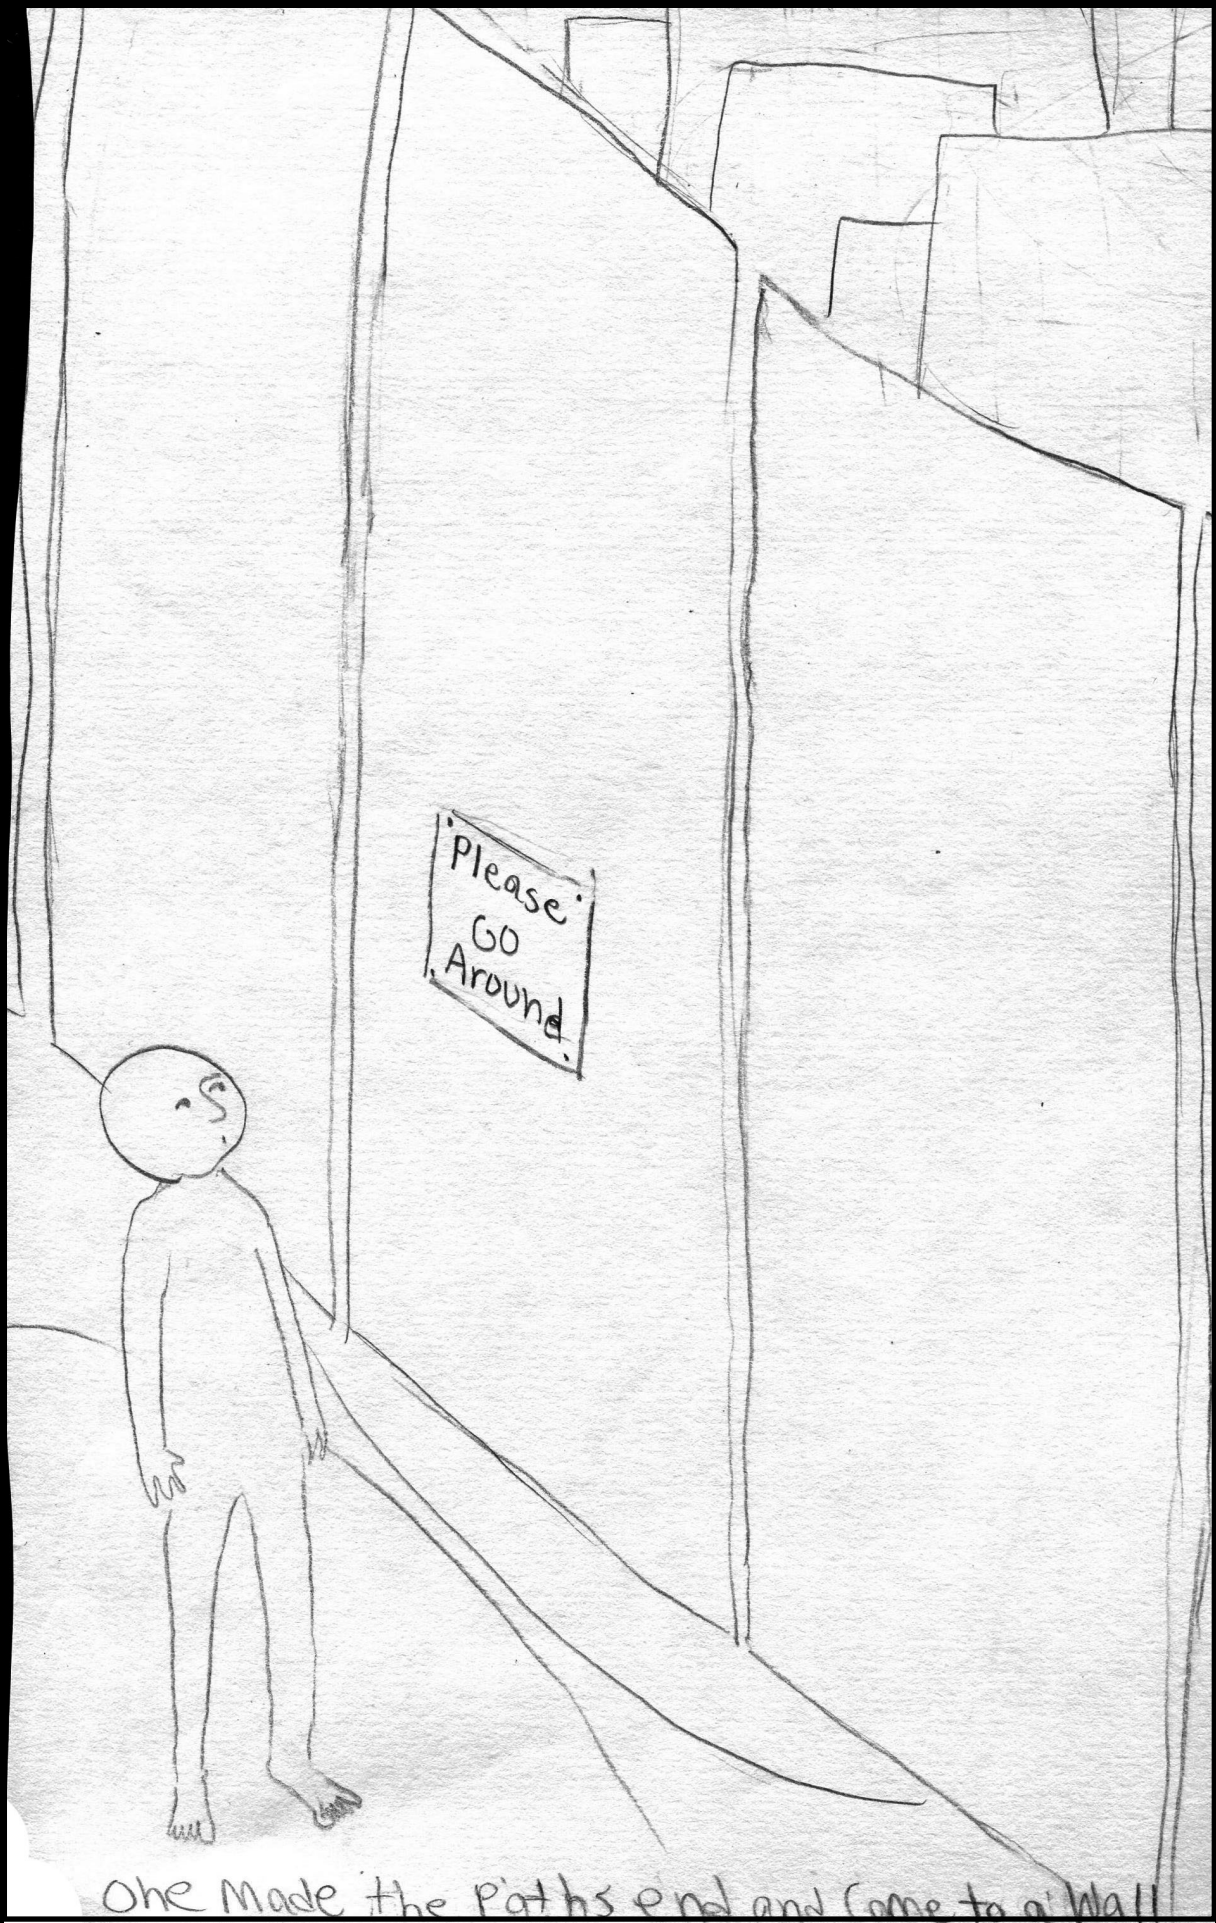

On Walking and Walking, Towards Anywhere.

One saw a place in the distance

One Made the Paths end and Come to a Wall

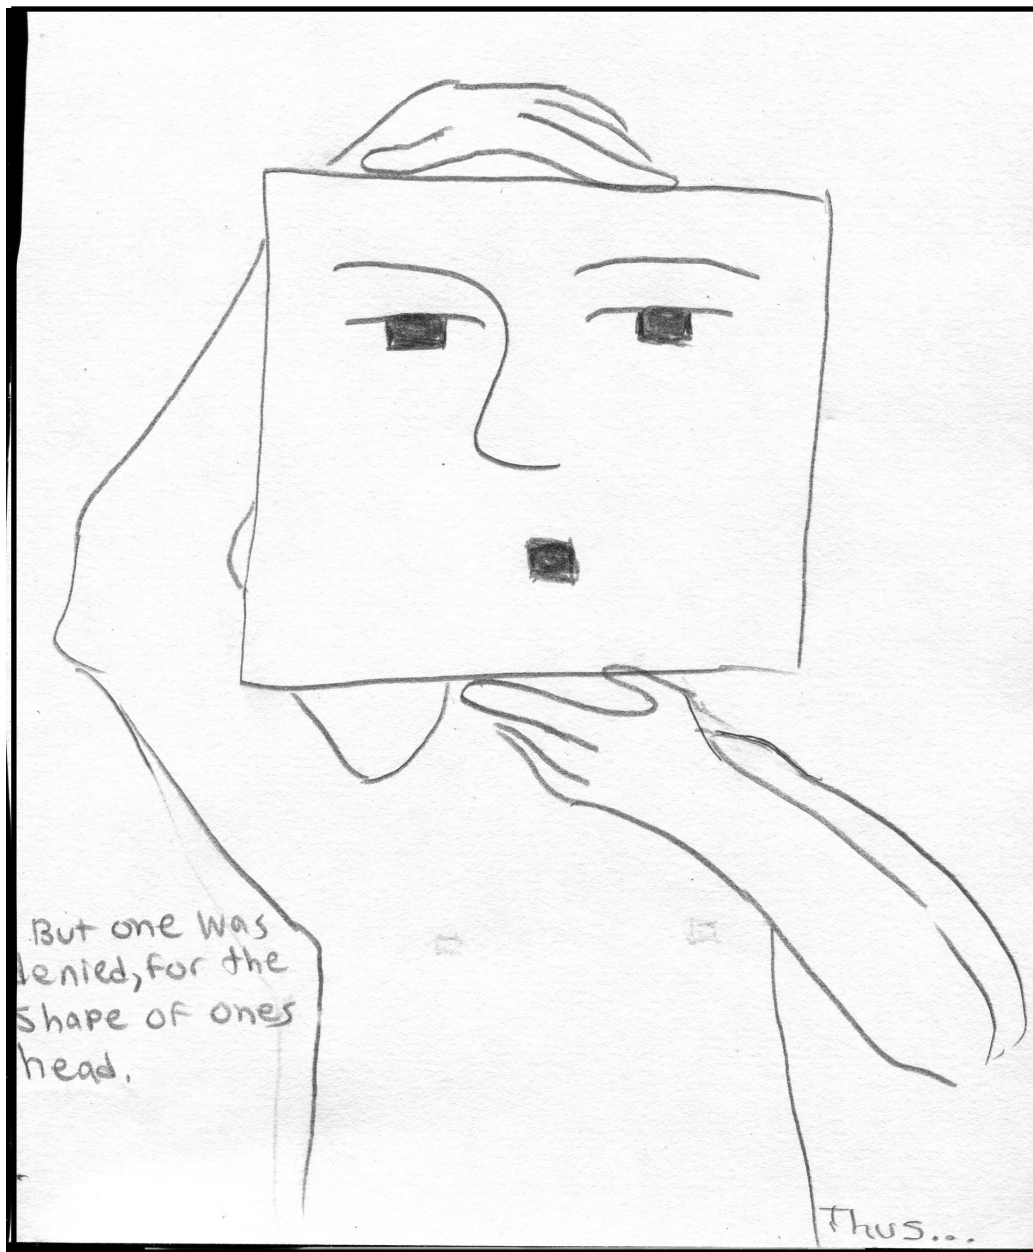

Walking along the Wall for some time

One came to a gate, guarded by a square headed fellow.

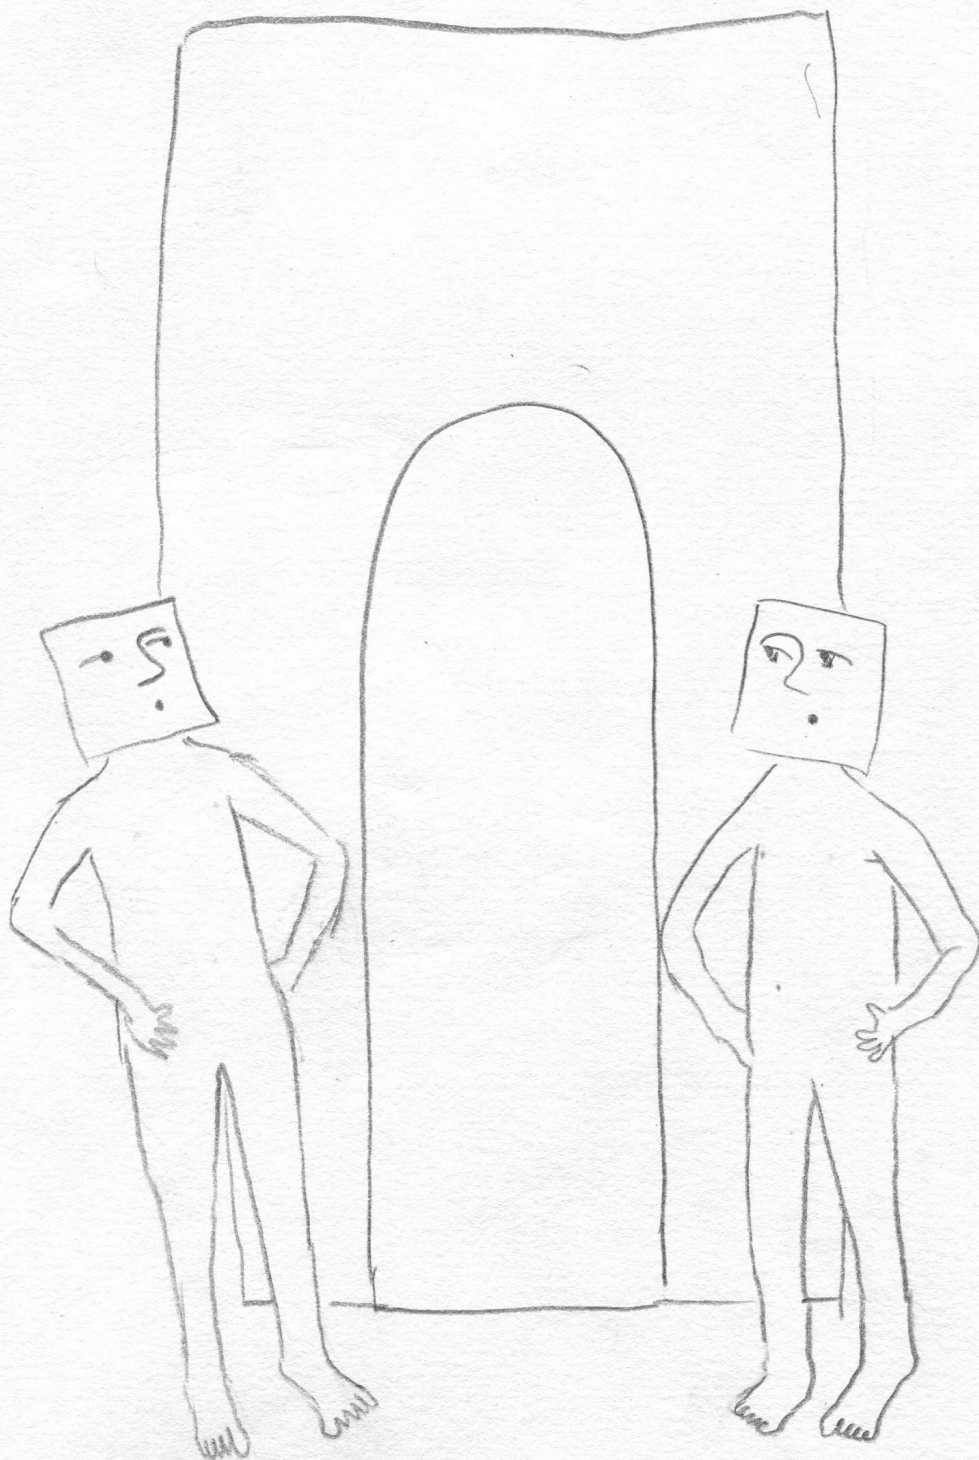

One asked permission to enter.

But one was denied, for the shape of ones
head.

Thus...

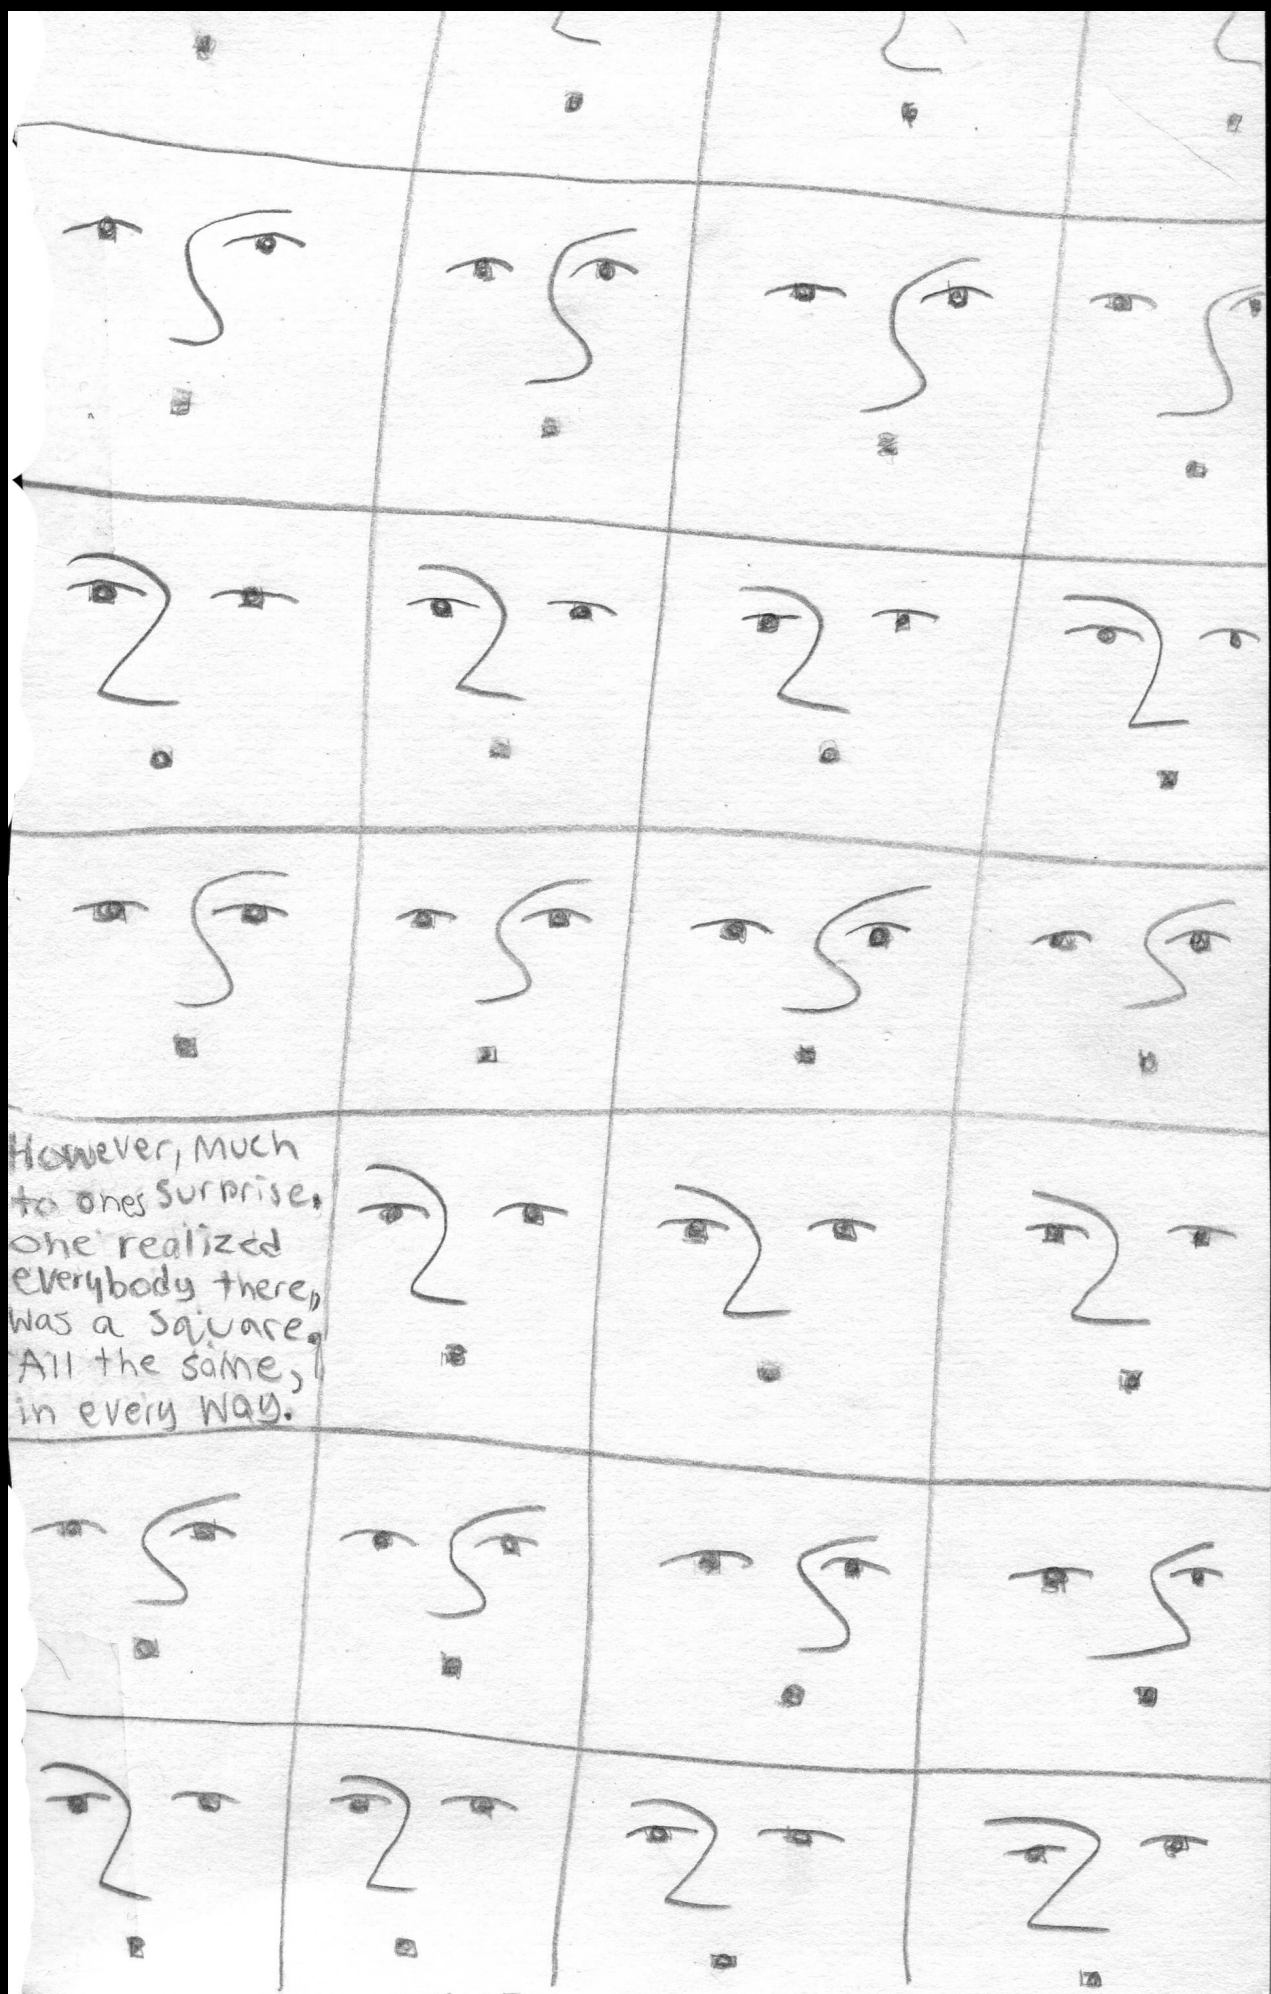

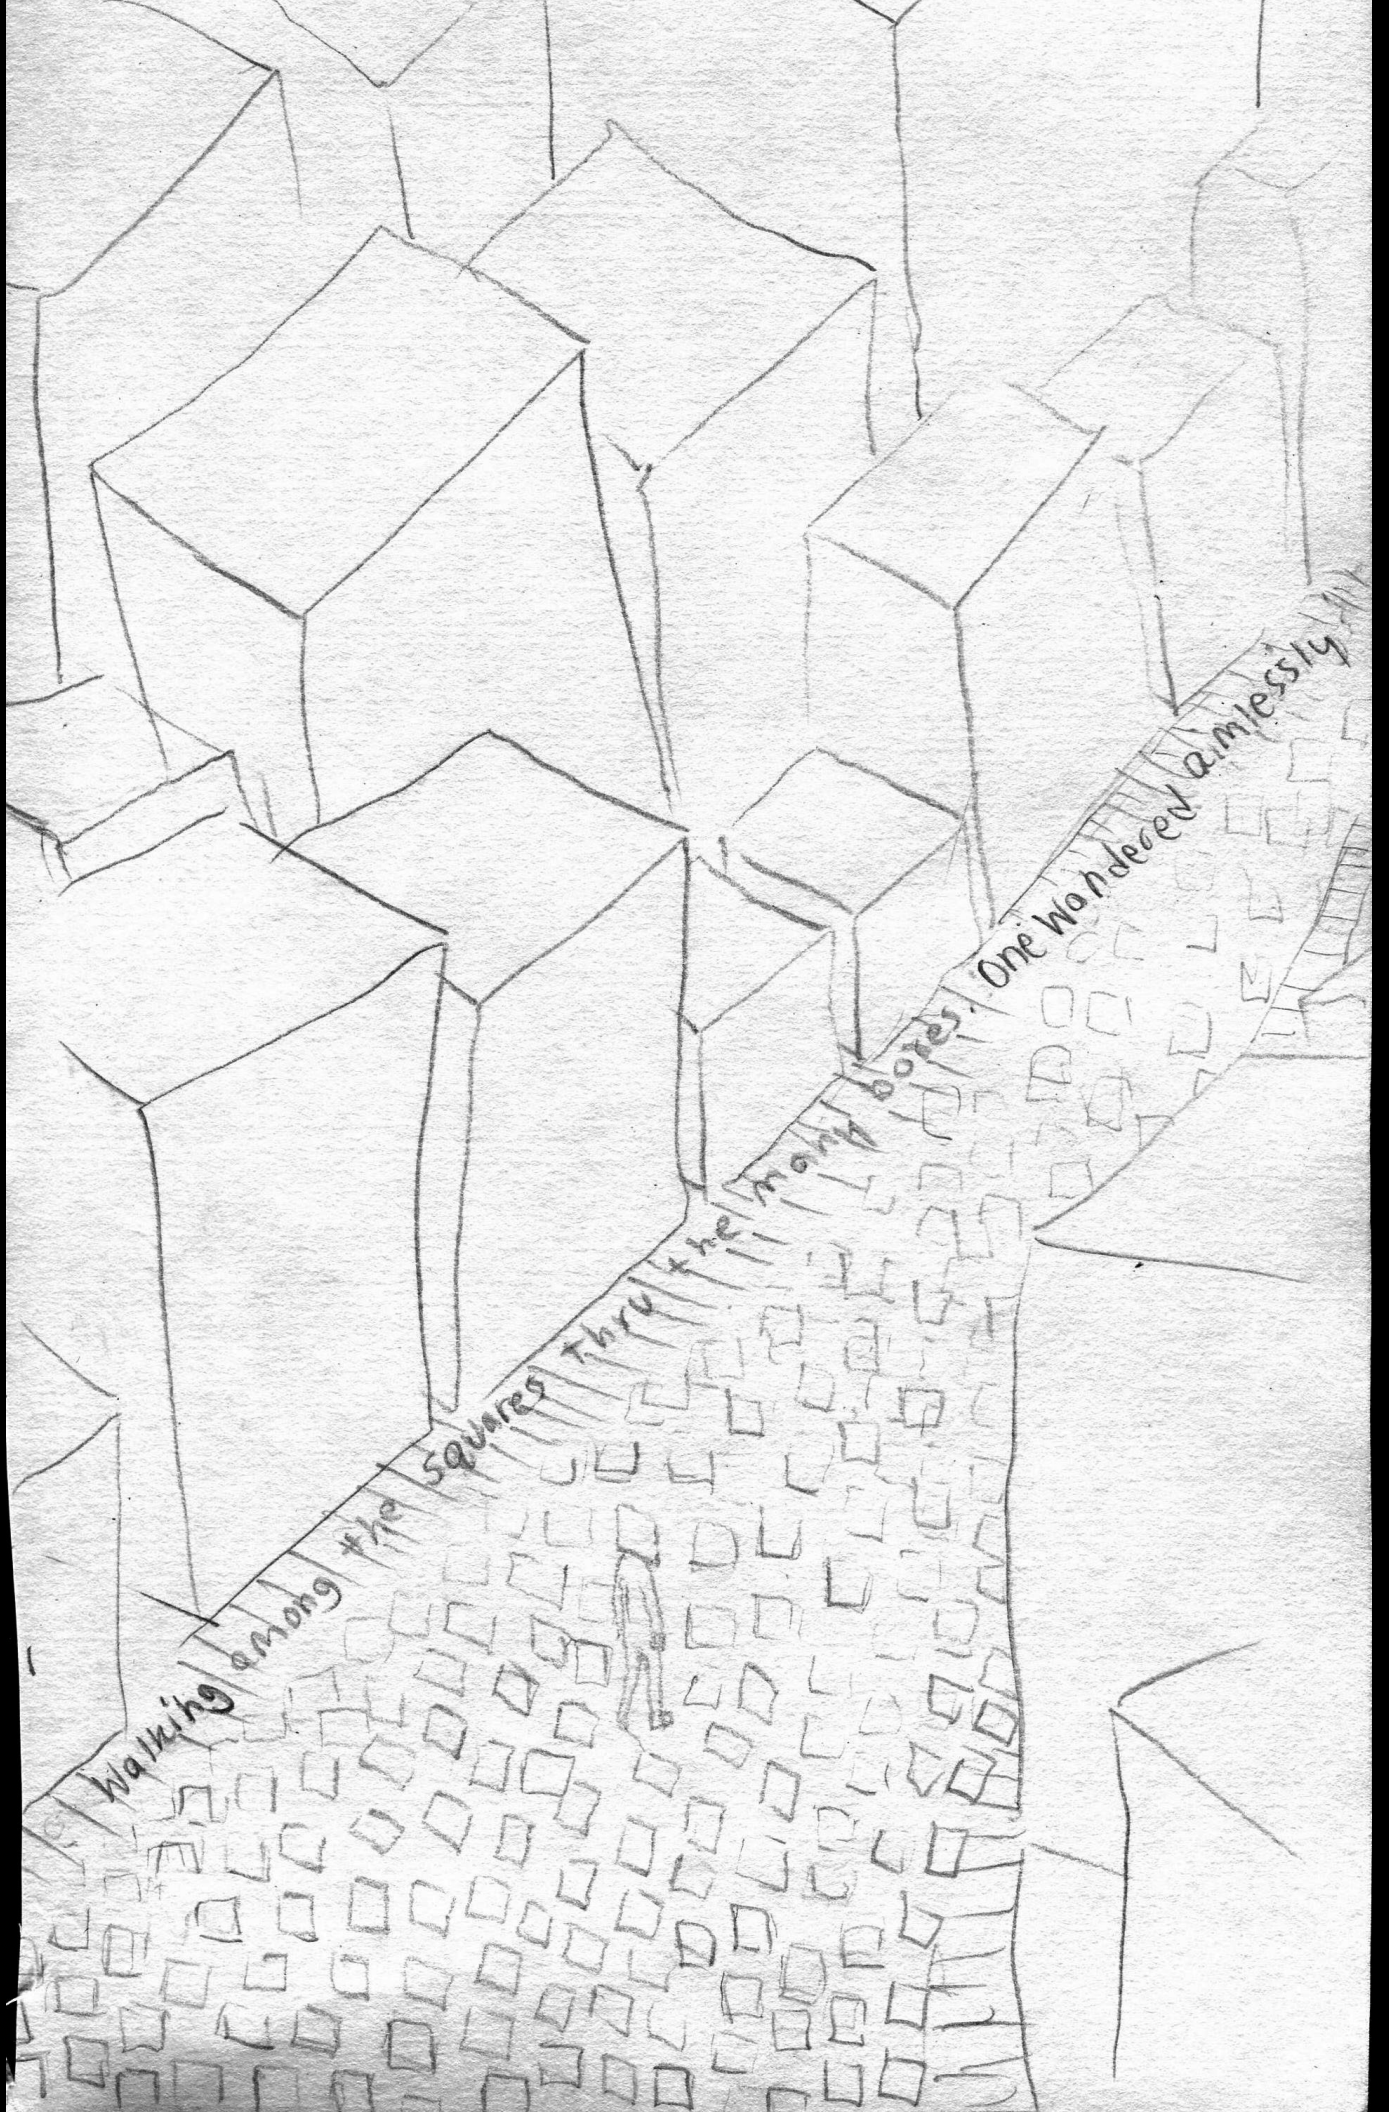

So one become like the other and the square headed gaurd was impressed. Letting one in

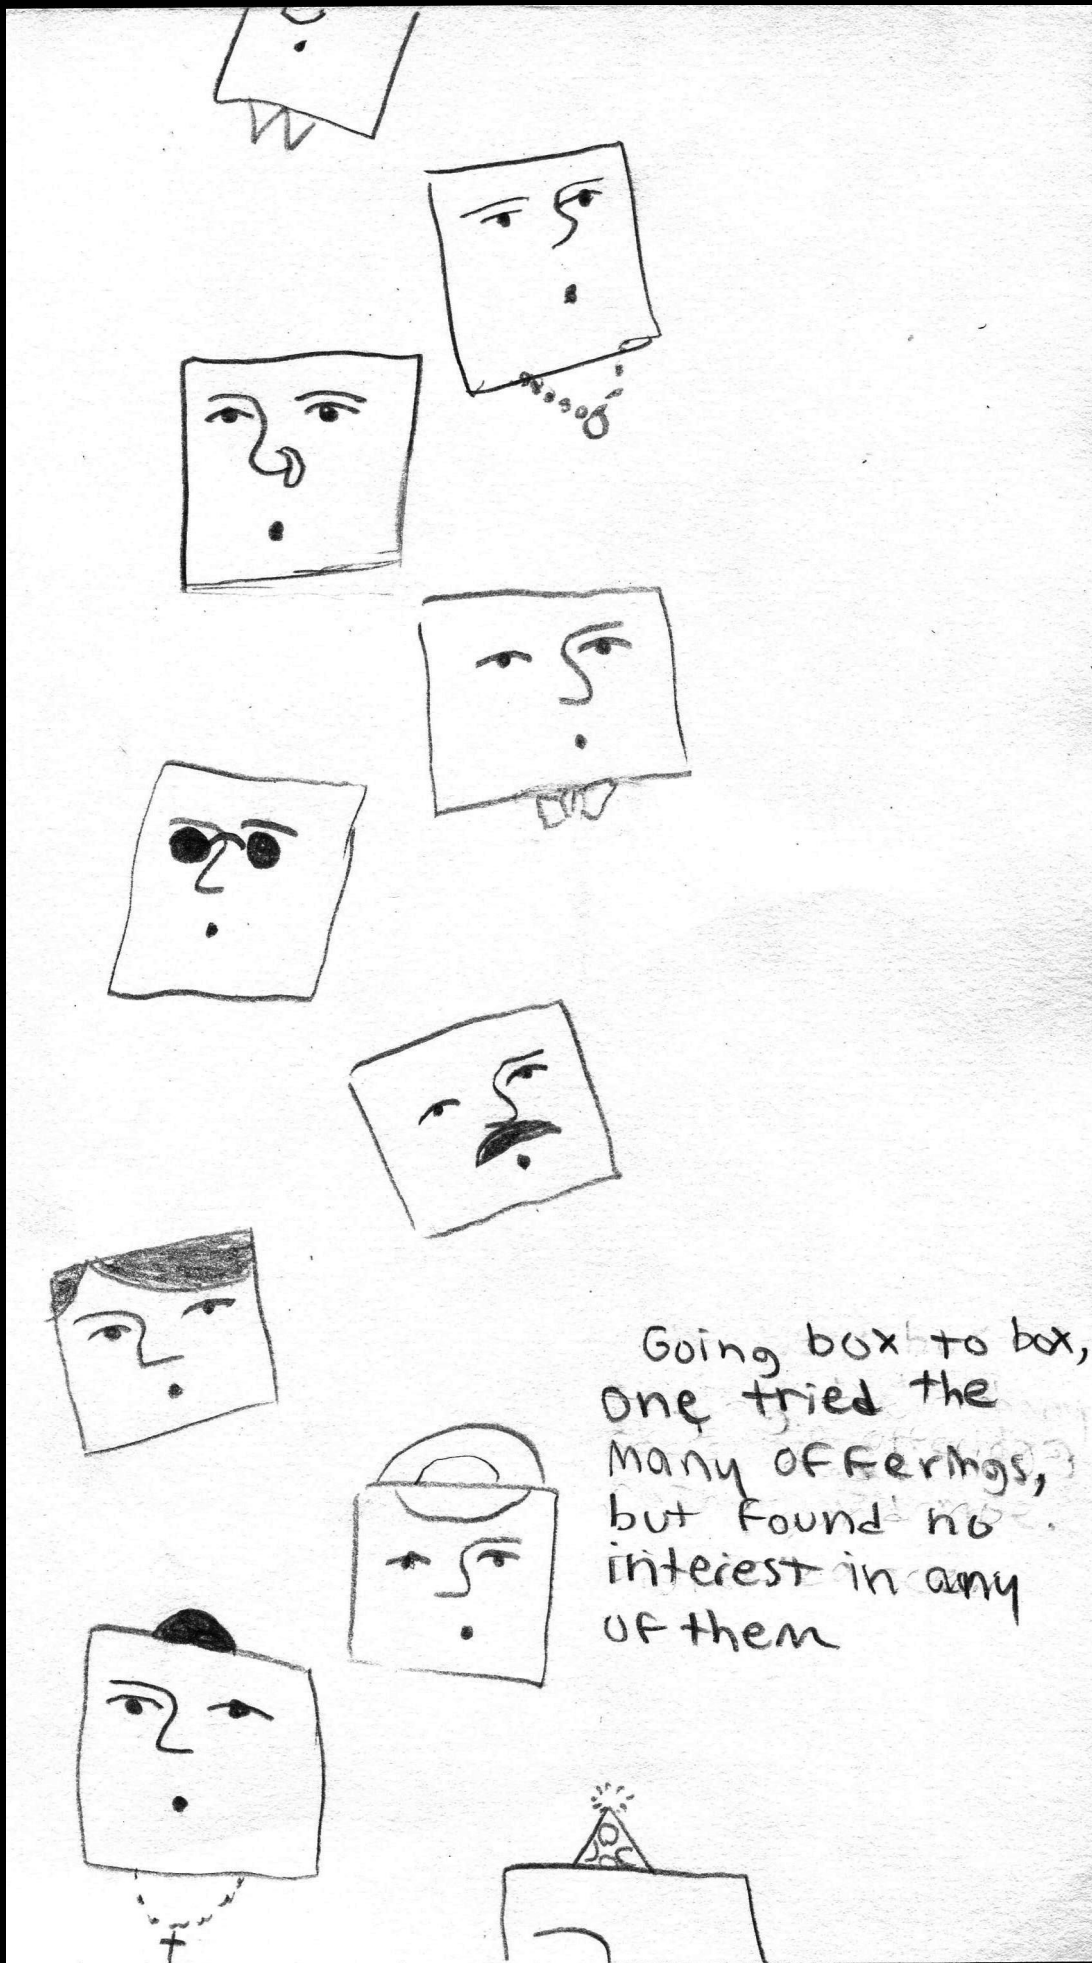

One entered

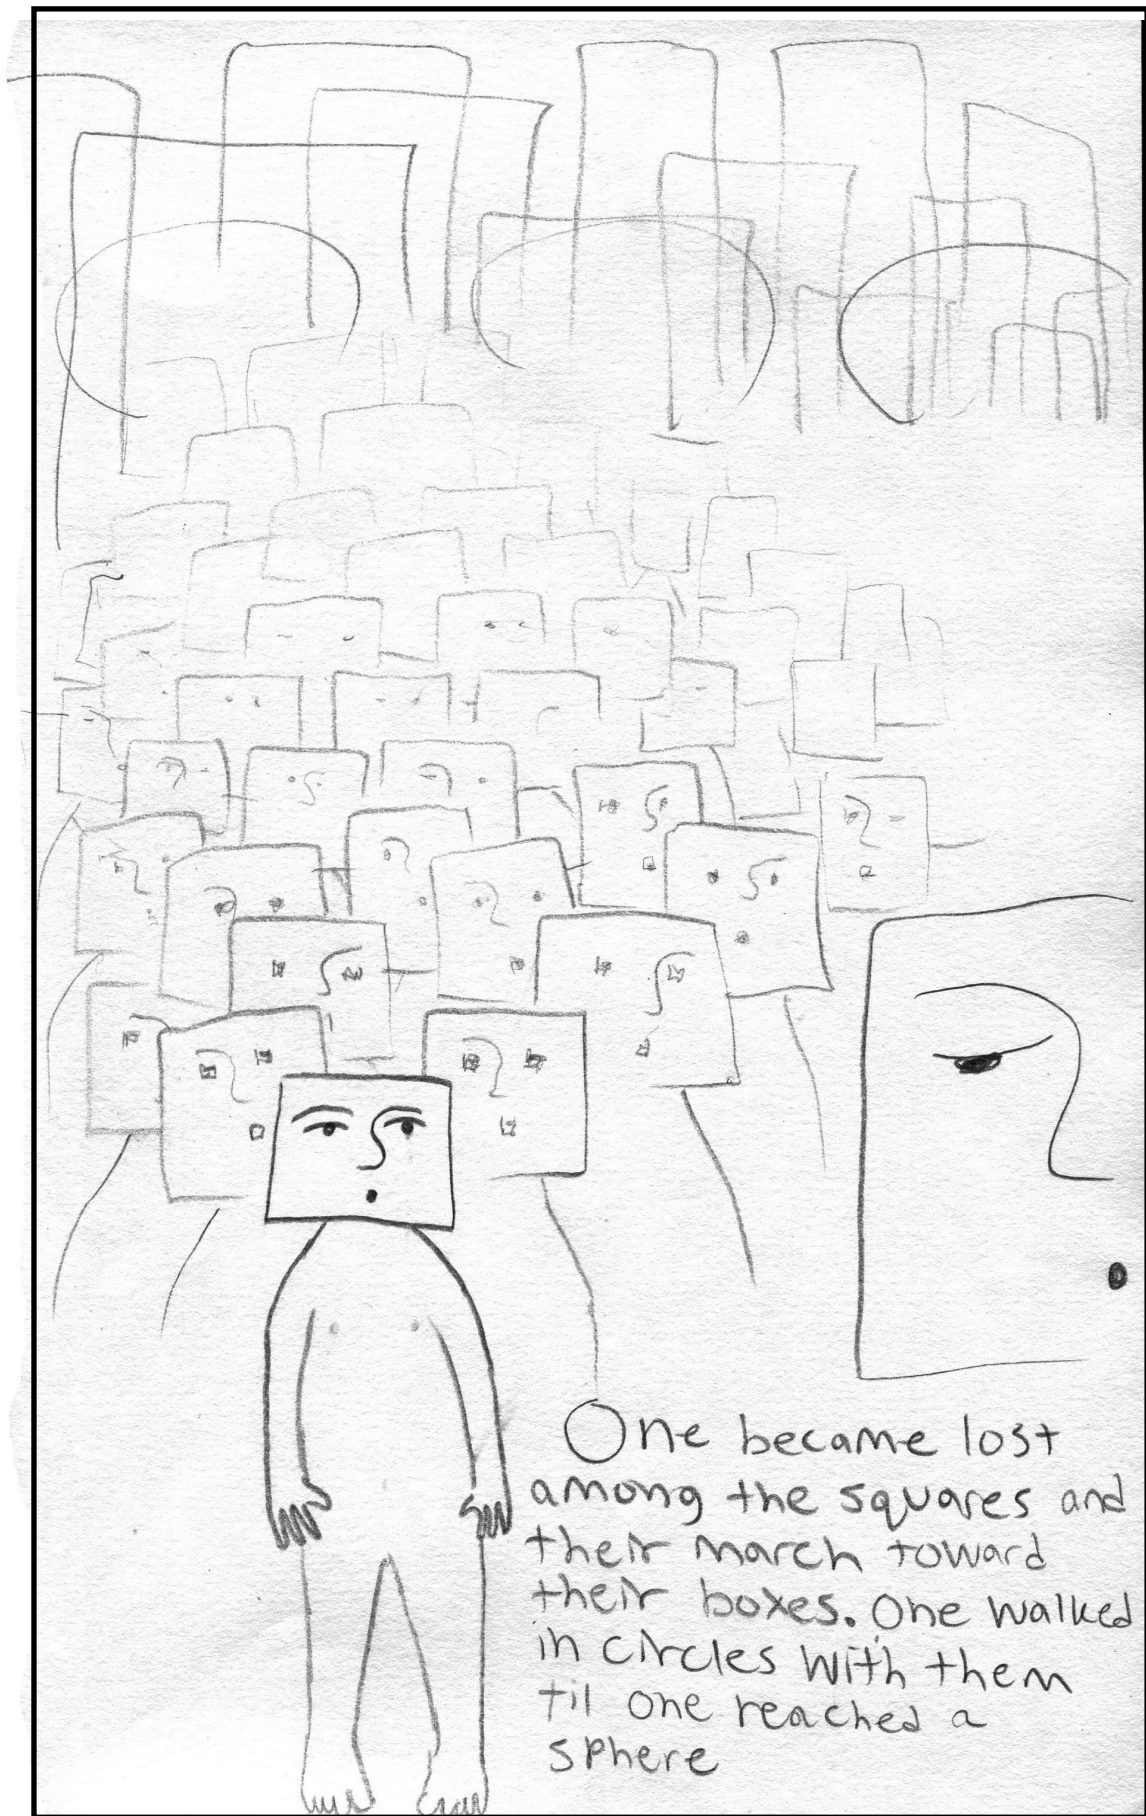

Walking among the squares thru the many holes.

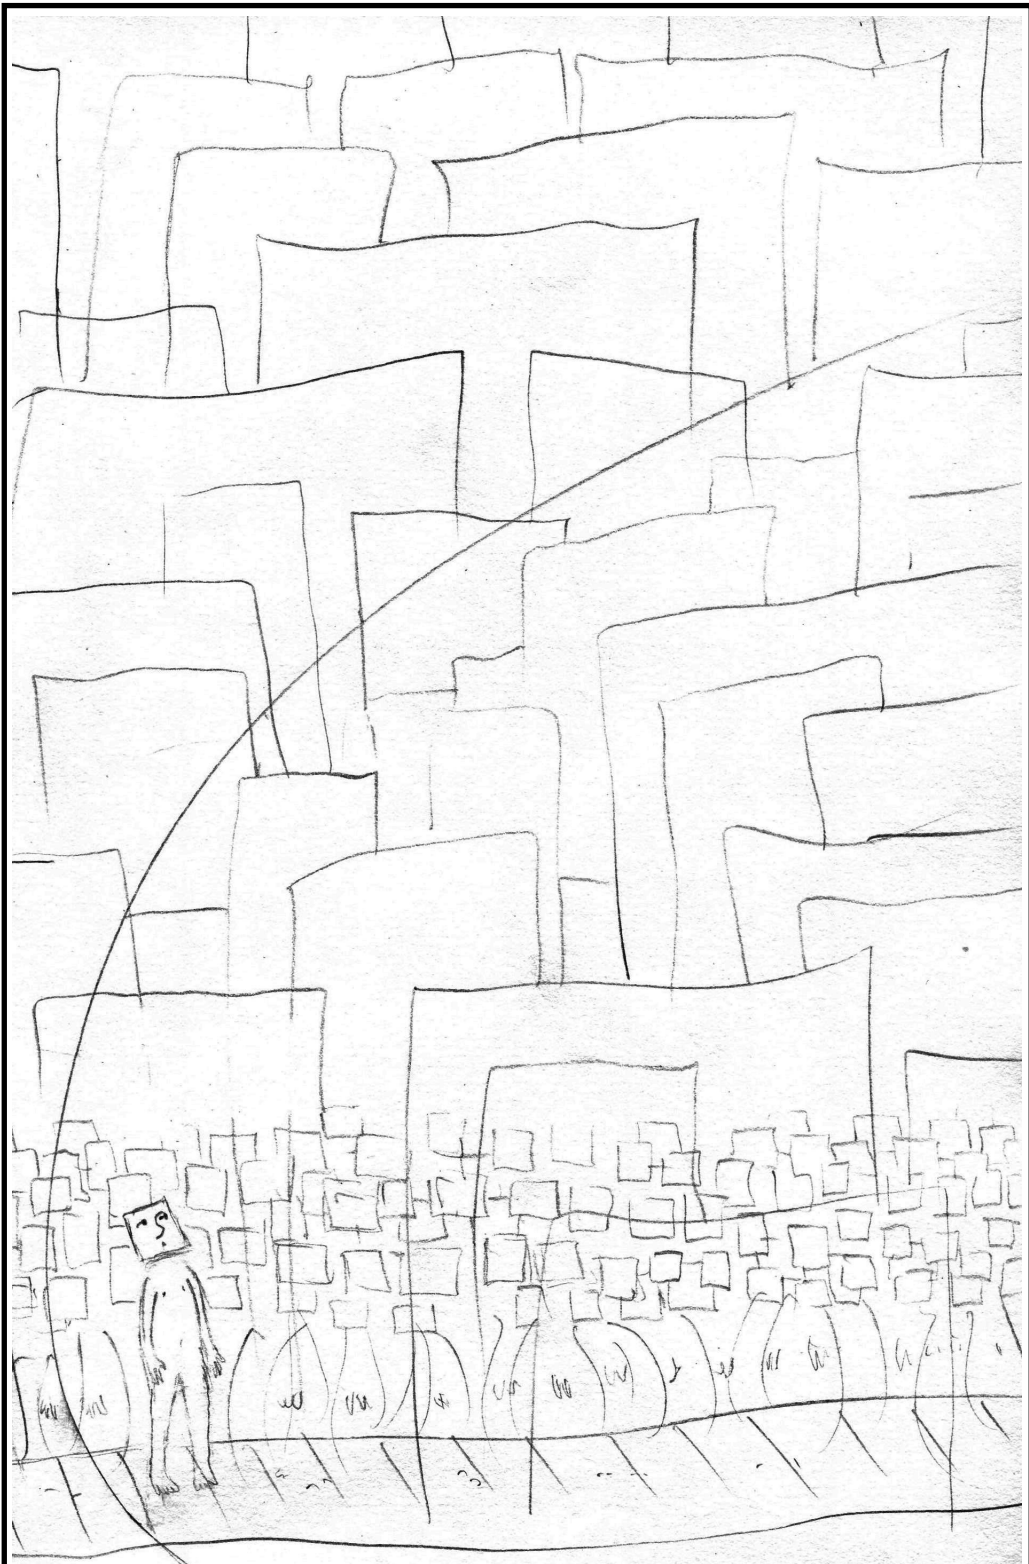

One Wandered aimlessly

Going box to box, one tried the
many offerings,
but found no interest in any of them

One became lost among the squares and their march toward their boxes. One walked in circles with them til one reached a sphere

One entered the sphere and saw many boxes

Chapter 3

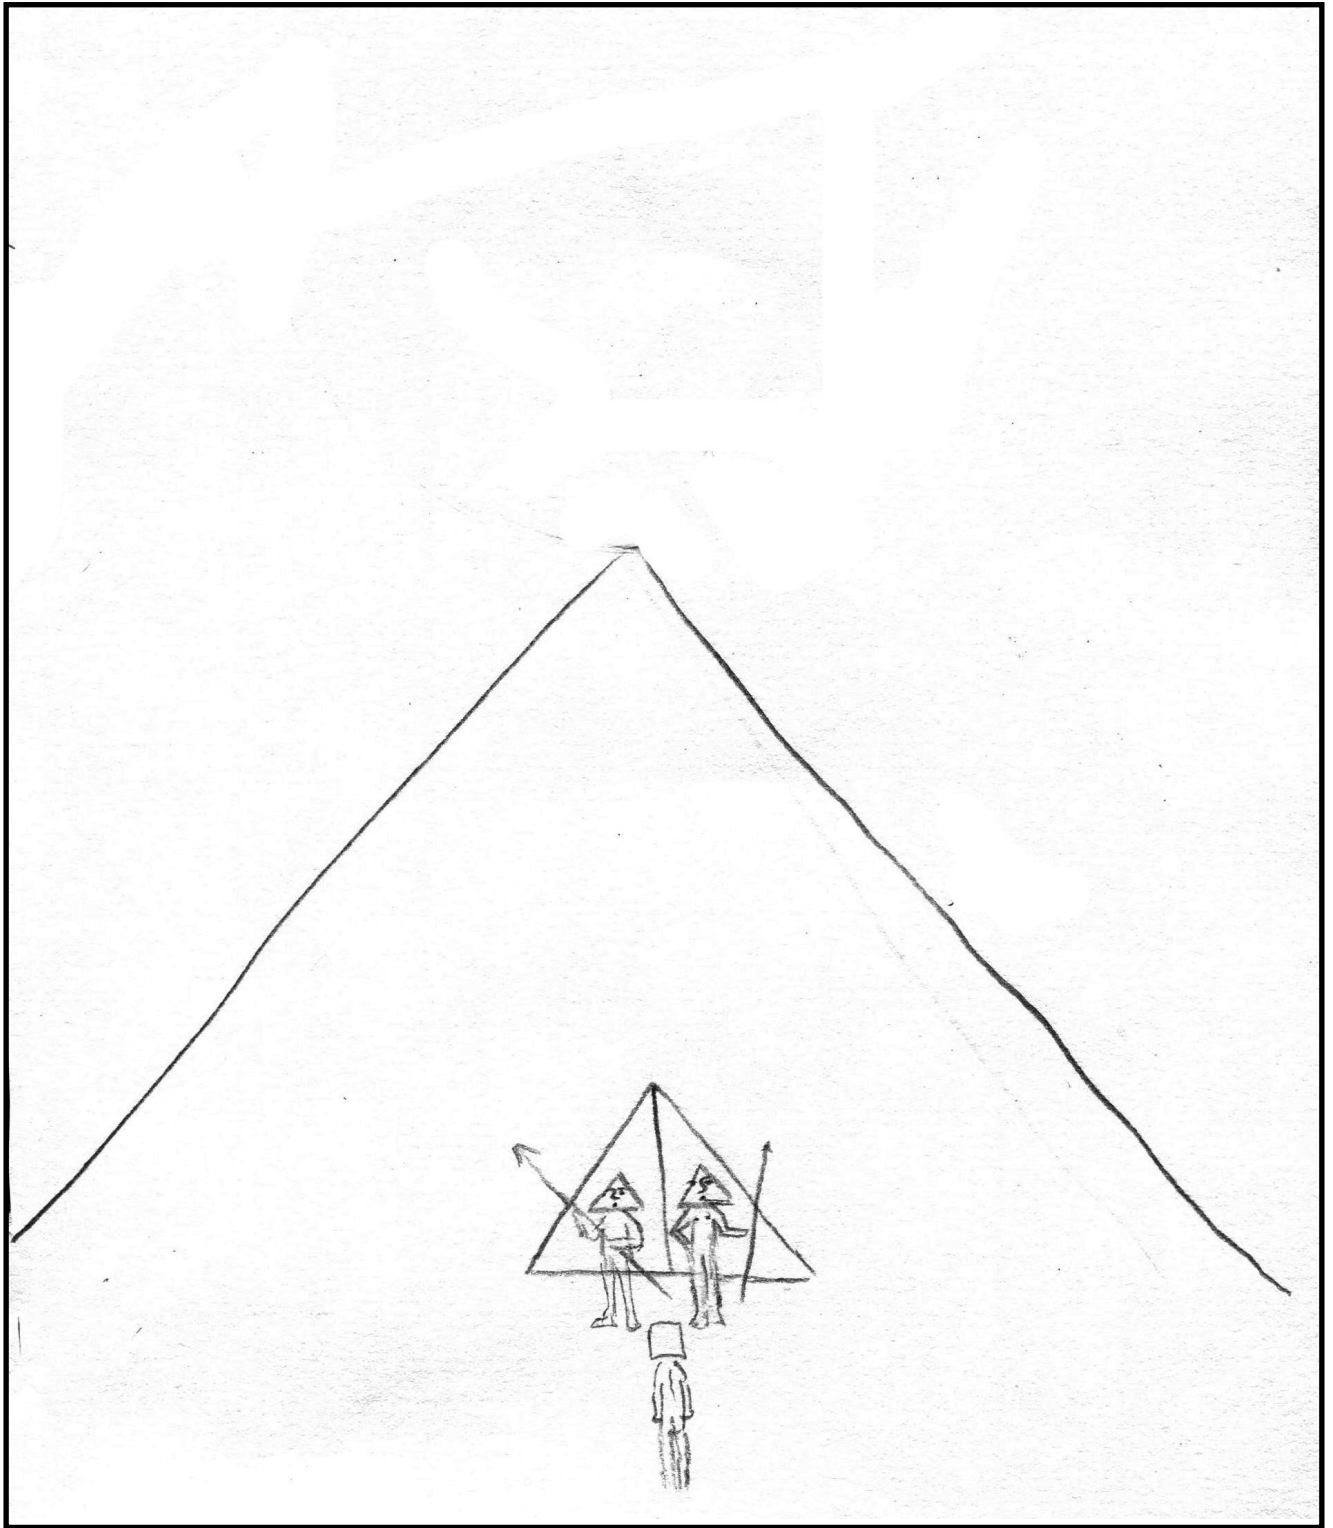

The Great Pyramid

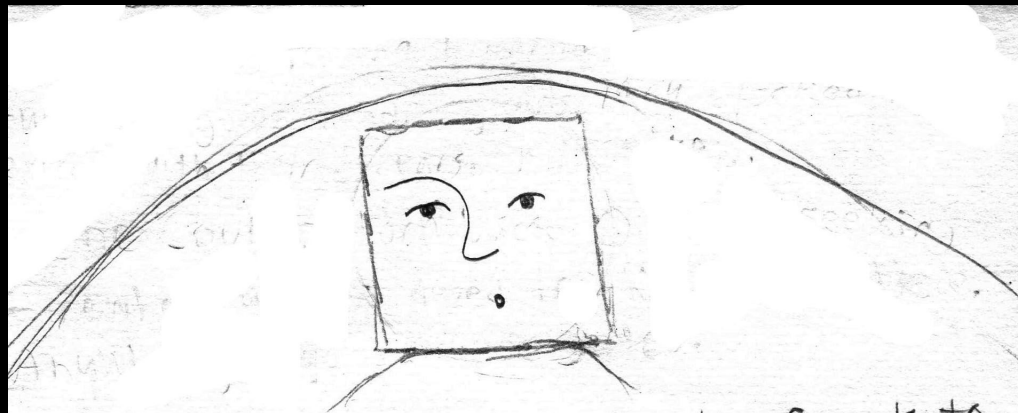

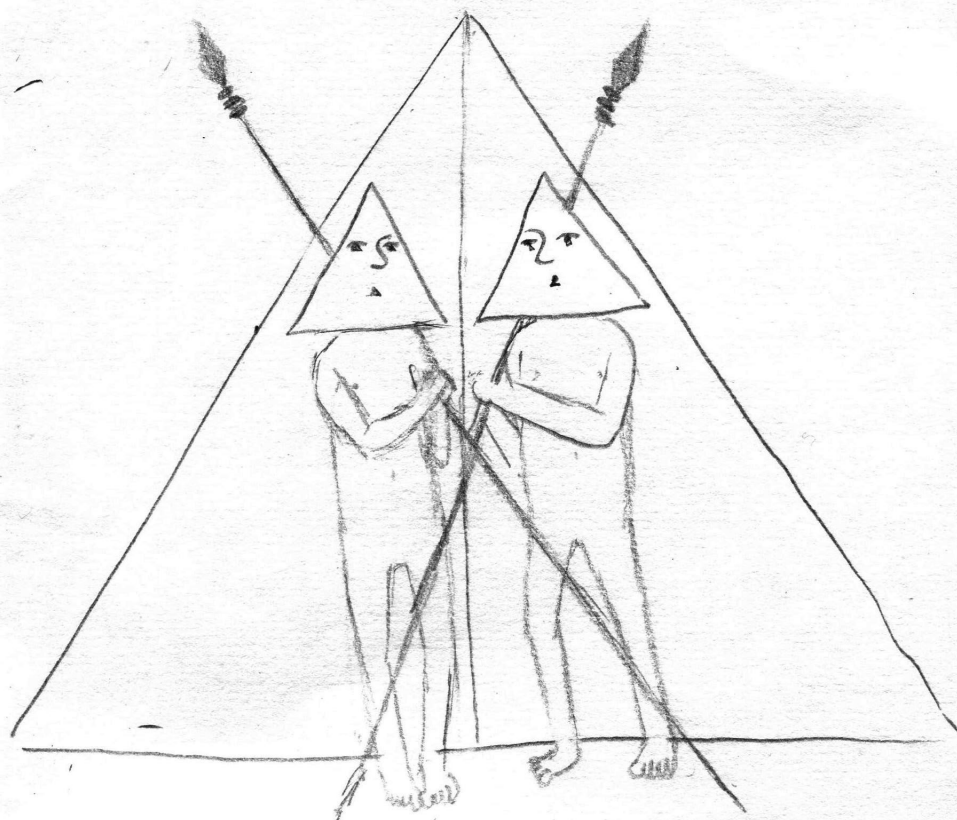

One walked towards the Great Pyramid. and

One asked Permission OF the Gaurds, to enter the gateway. The two looked at each Other, Crossed their spears and spoke.

"What business do you have here? square headed one. Your Kind, doesn't often travel outside the sphere.
They ignore
our sacred Pyramid."

"But are overshadowed by it, when they are outside their boxes."

What is your purpose here square-headed one."

One explained to the guards, why one left home and became a square. One told them, of the search for something and someone.

Pleading with them to allow entry, so that one could continue on the path to somewhere

The guards looked at each other,
surprised by one's story. They wouldn't normally allow a square entrance into the great Pyramid.
But,

They knew one was not a square like the others in the land. Thus they opened the door and granted permission to see the King of the Great Pyramid:
Pharaoh
Pythagorism.

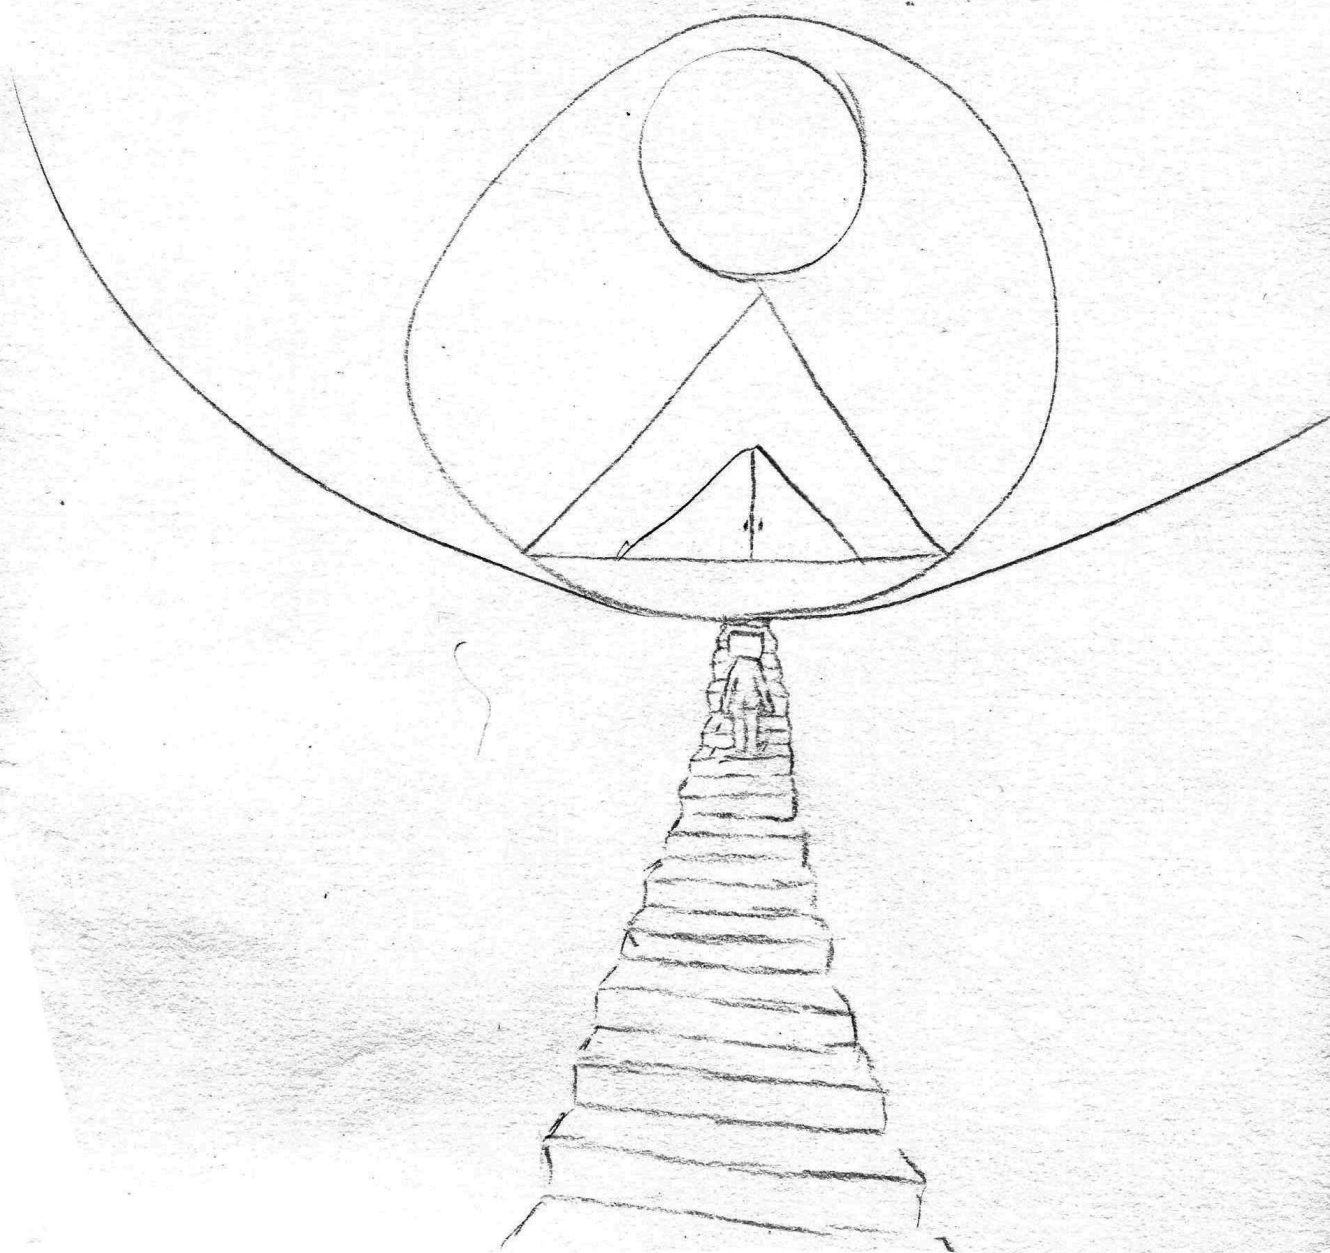

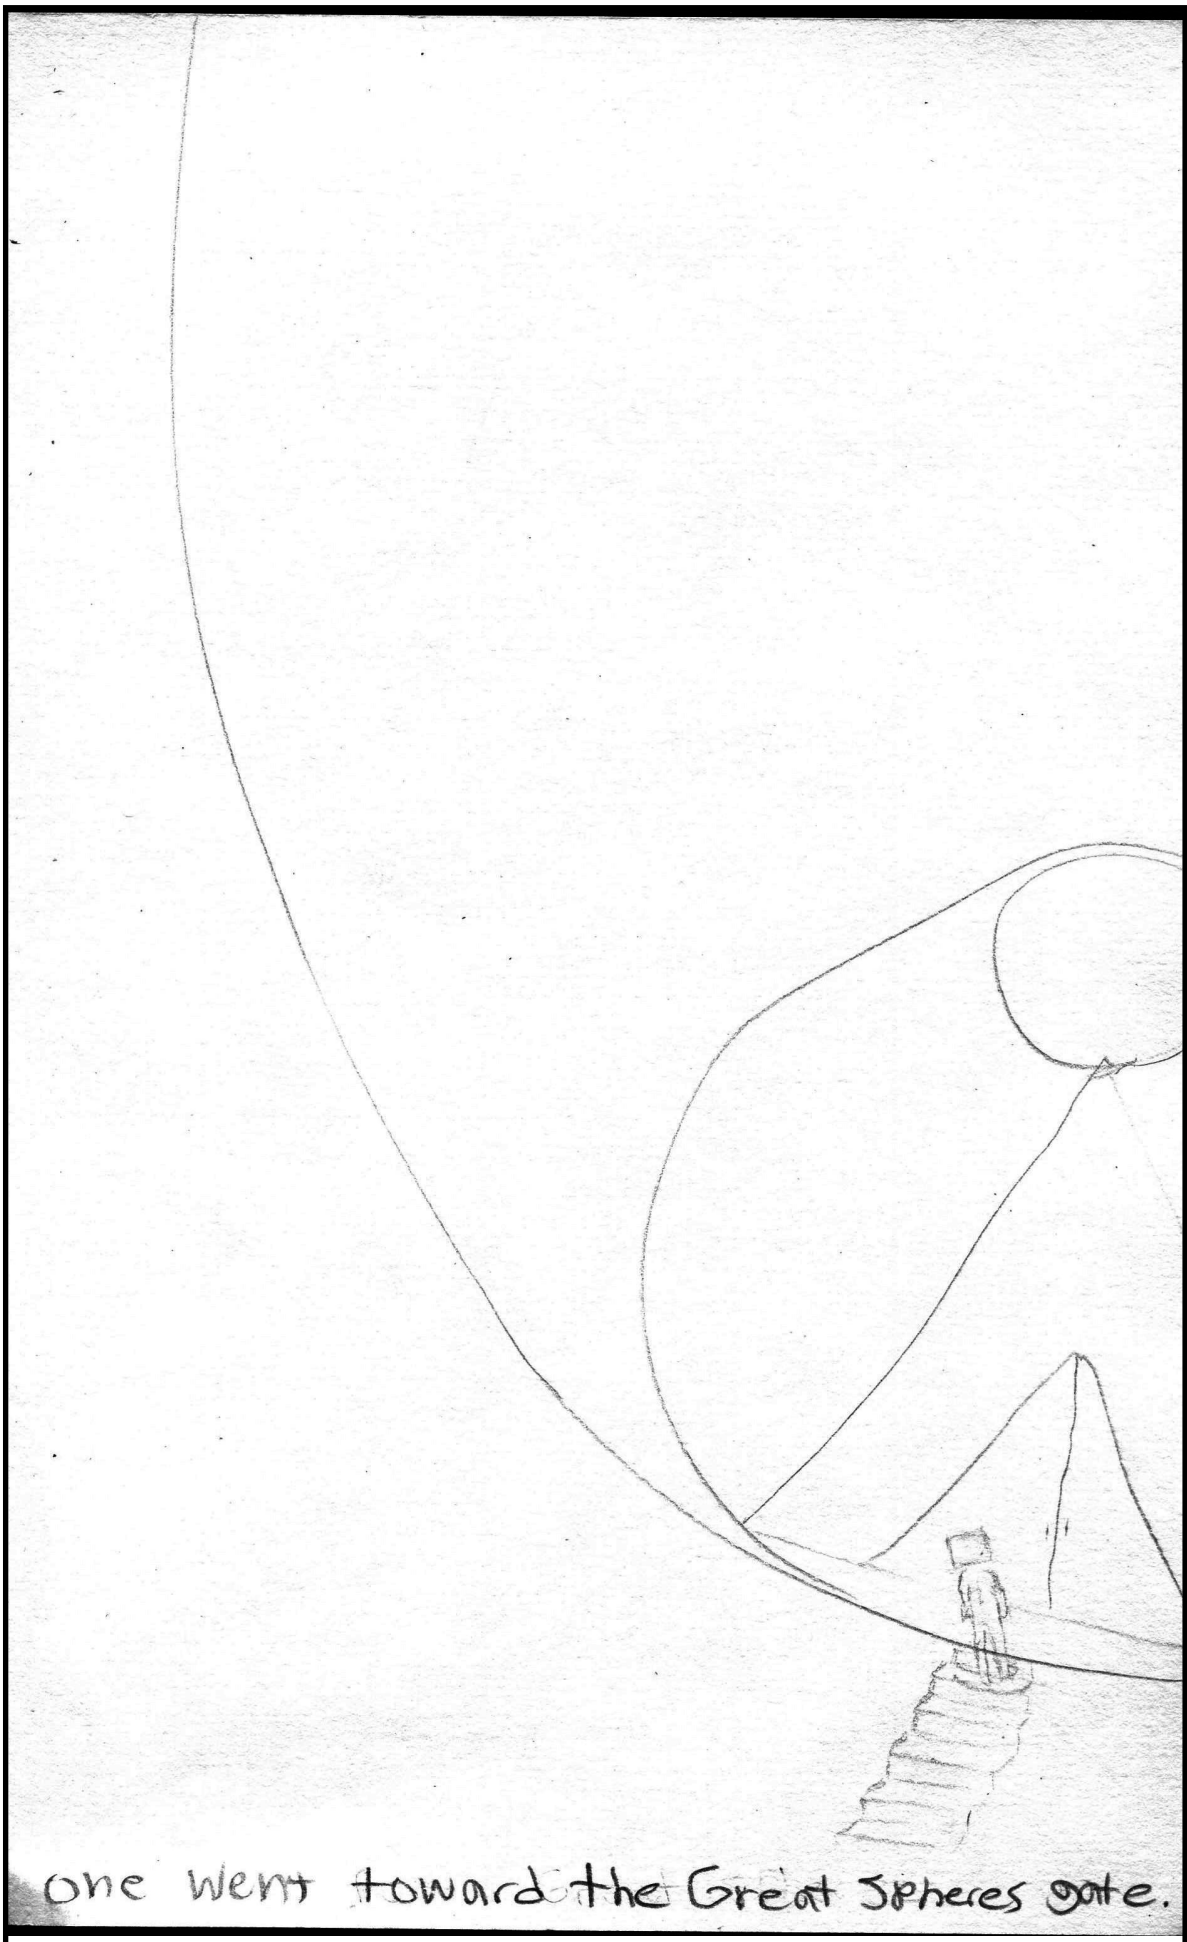

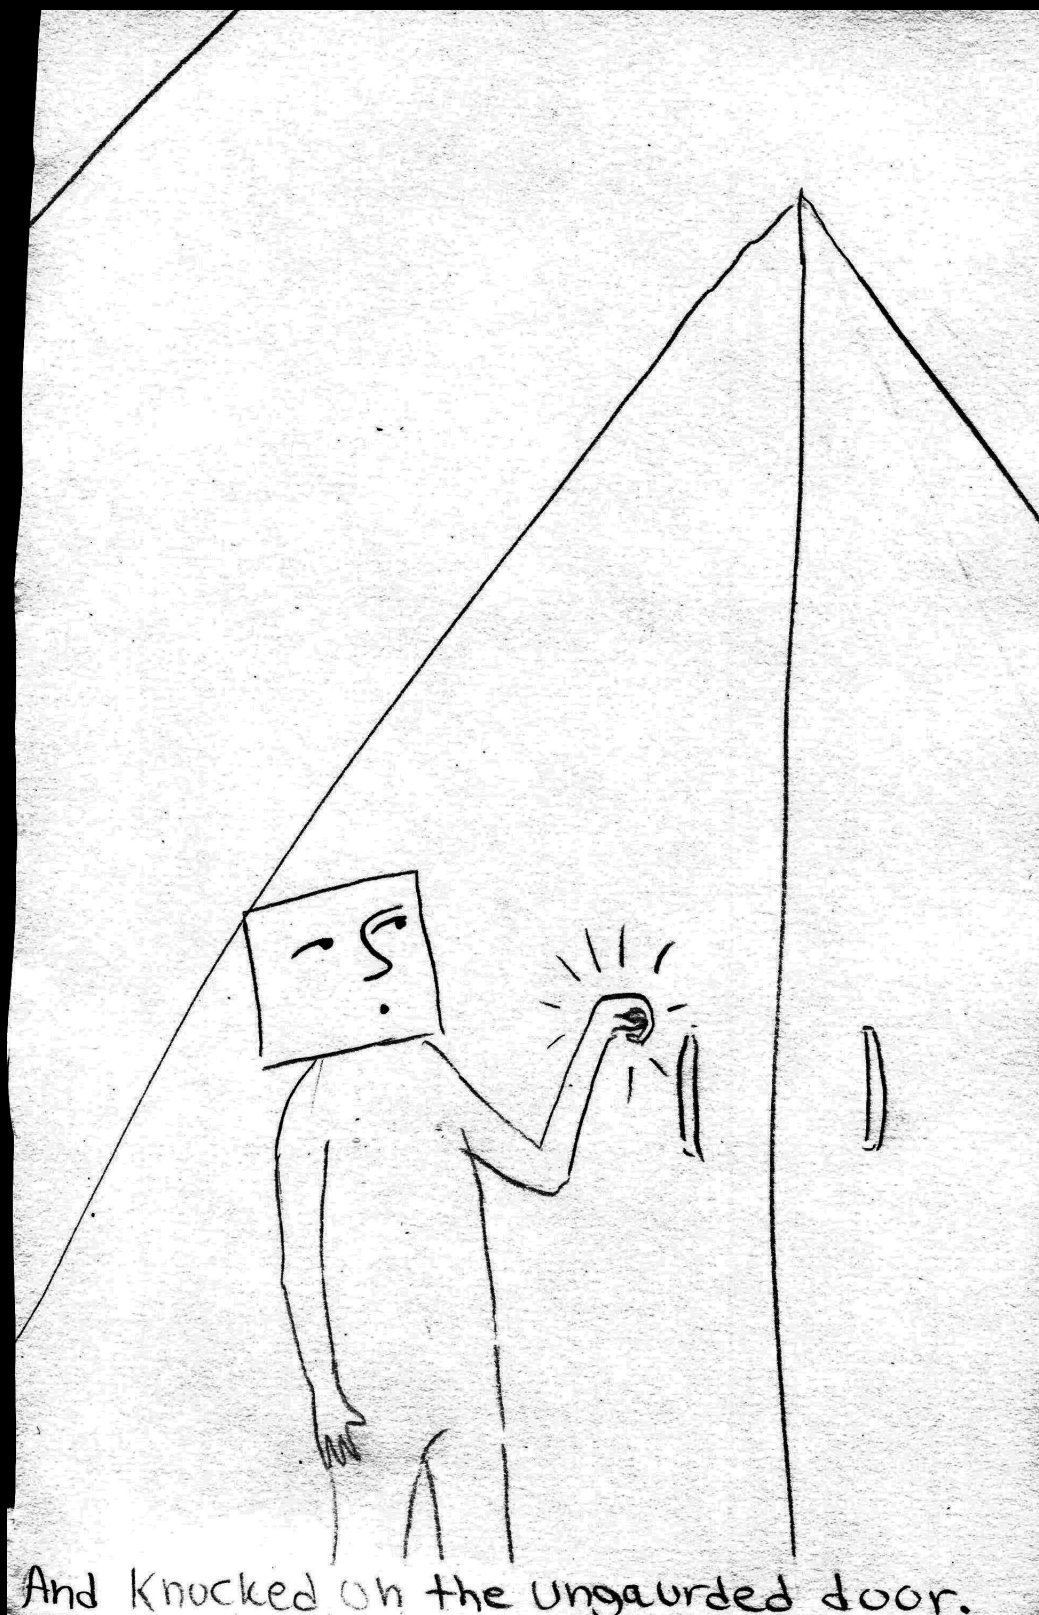

Chapter 4
The King

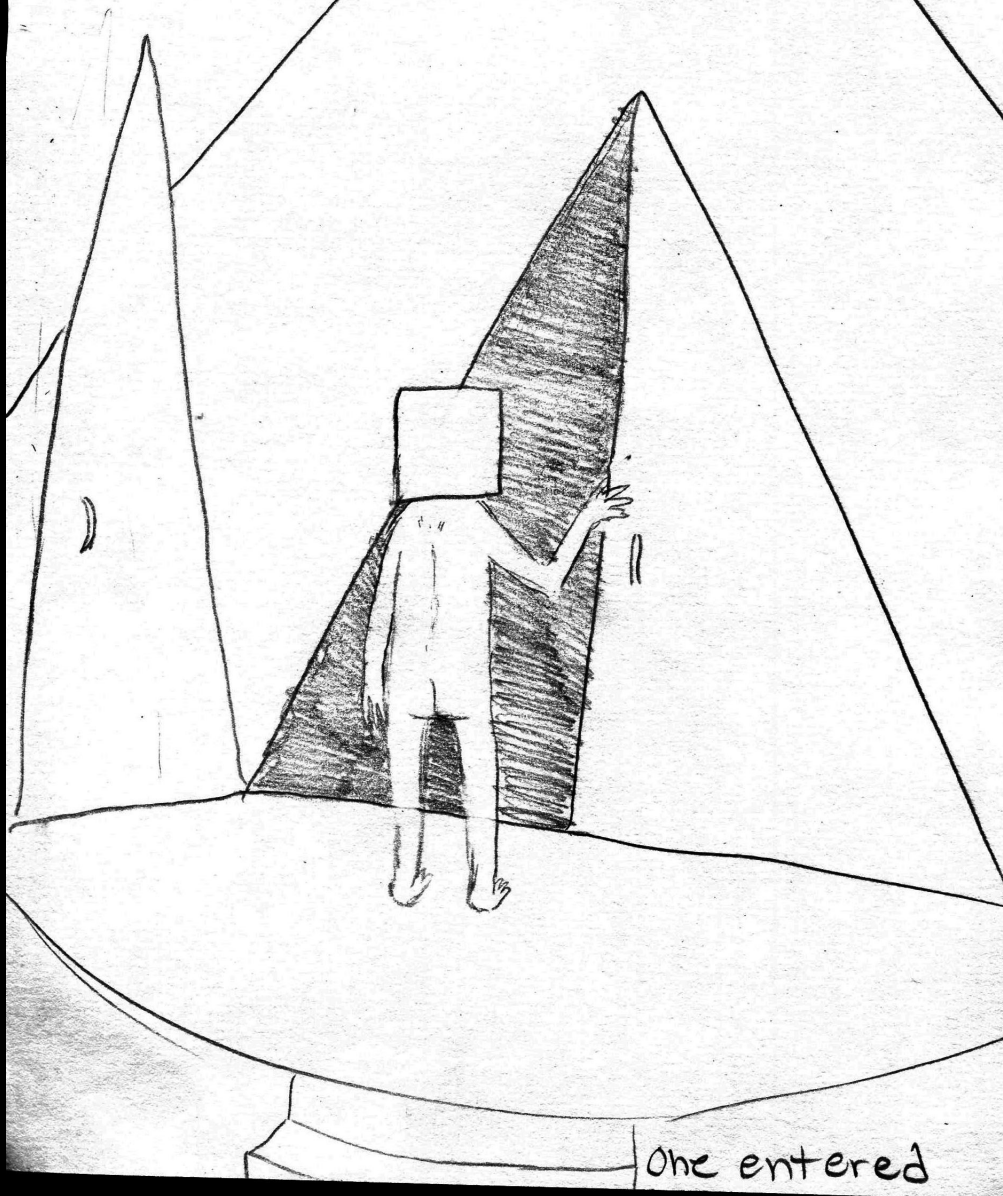

one went toward the Great Spheres gate.

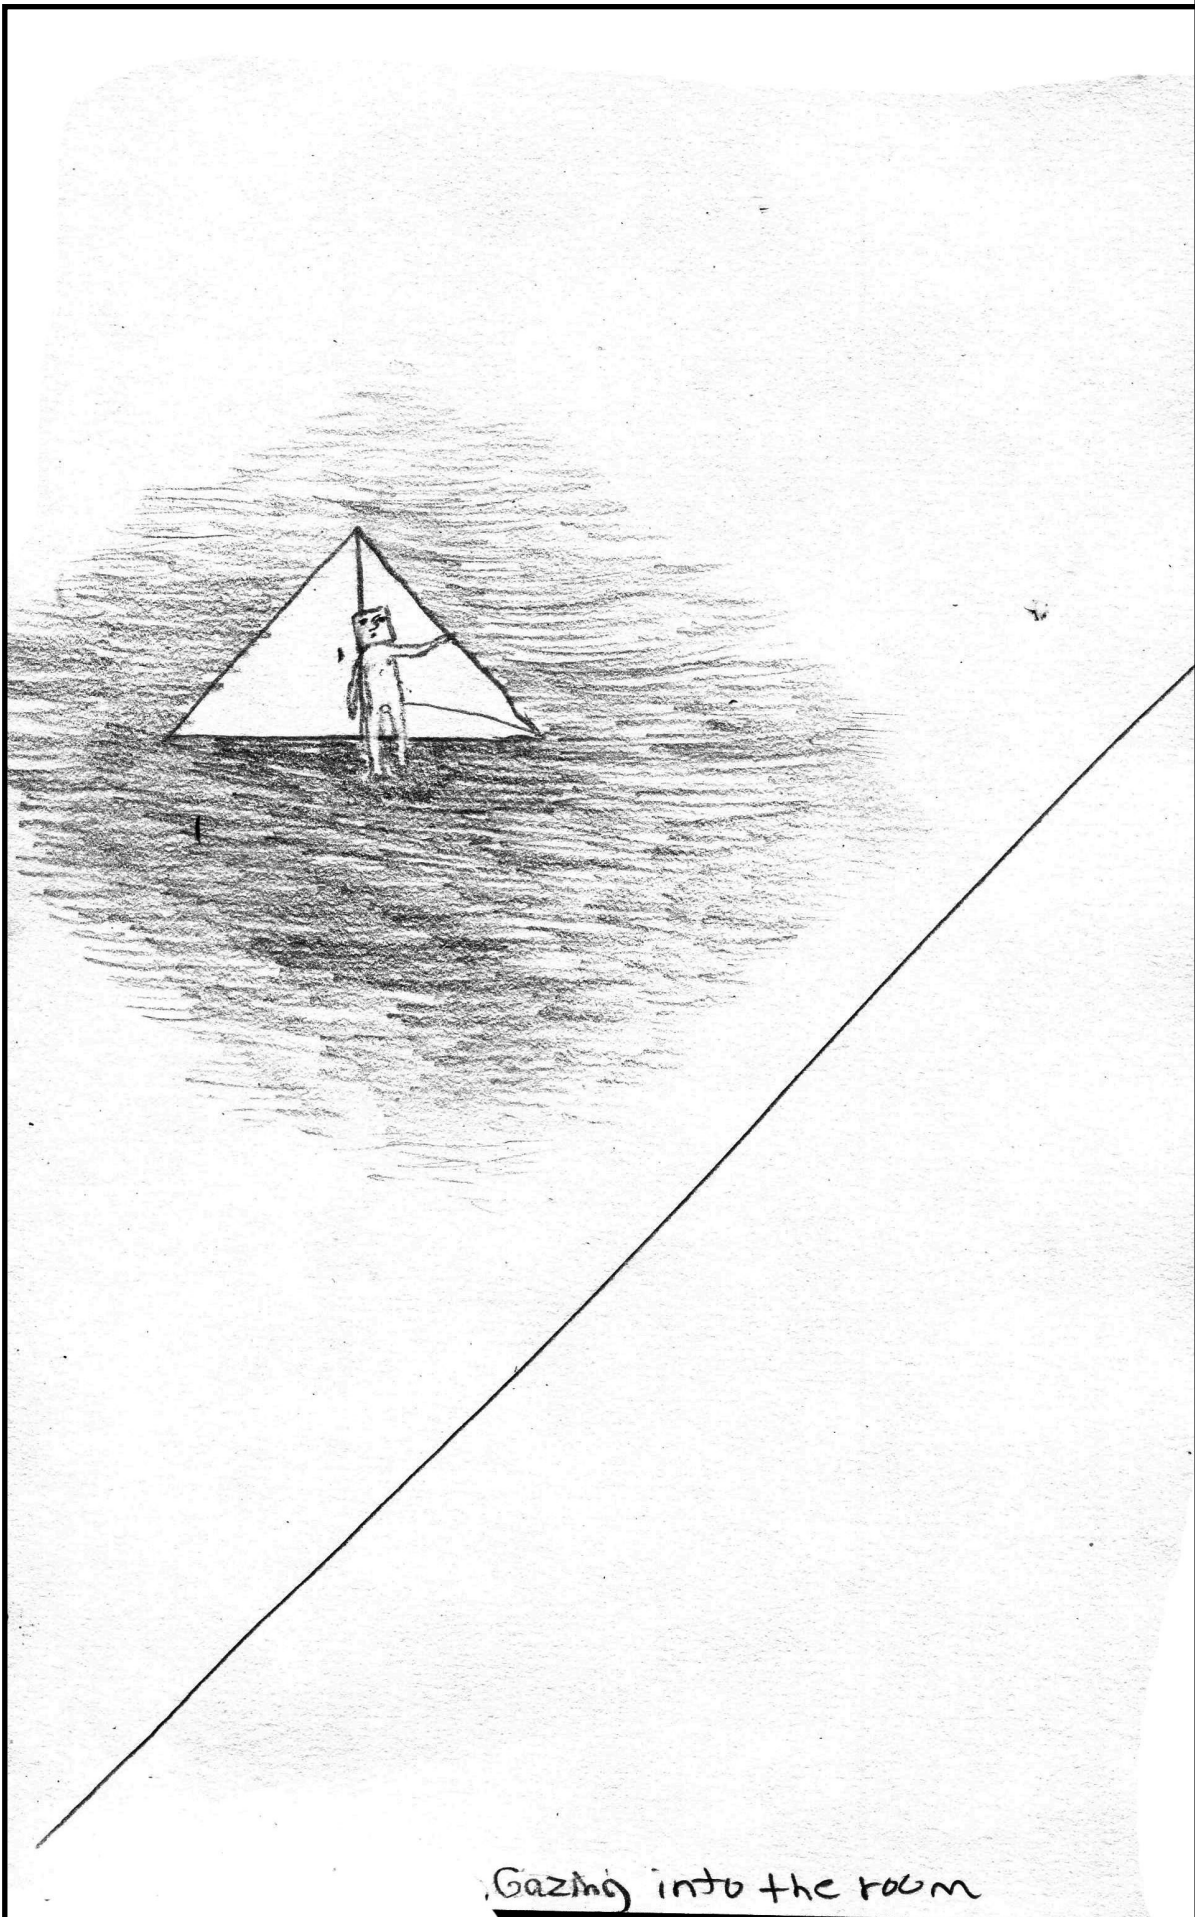

And knocked on the ungaured door.

One realized the door to the great sphere was unlocked and so one opened the door, peering into the darkness of the spheres room.

One entered

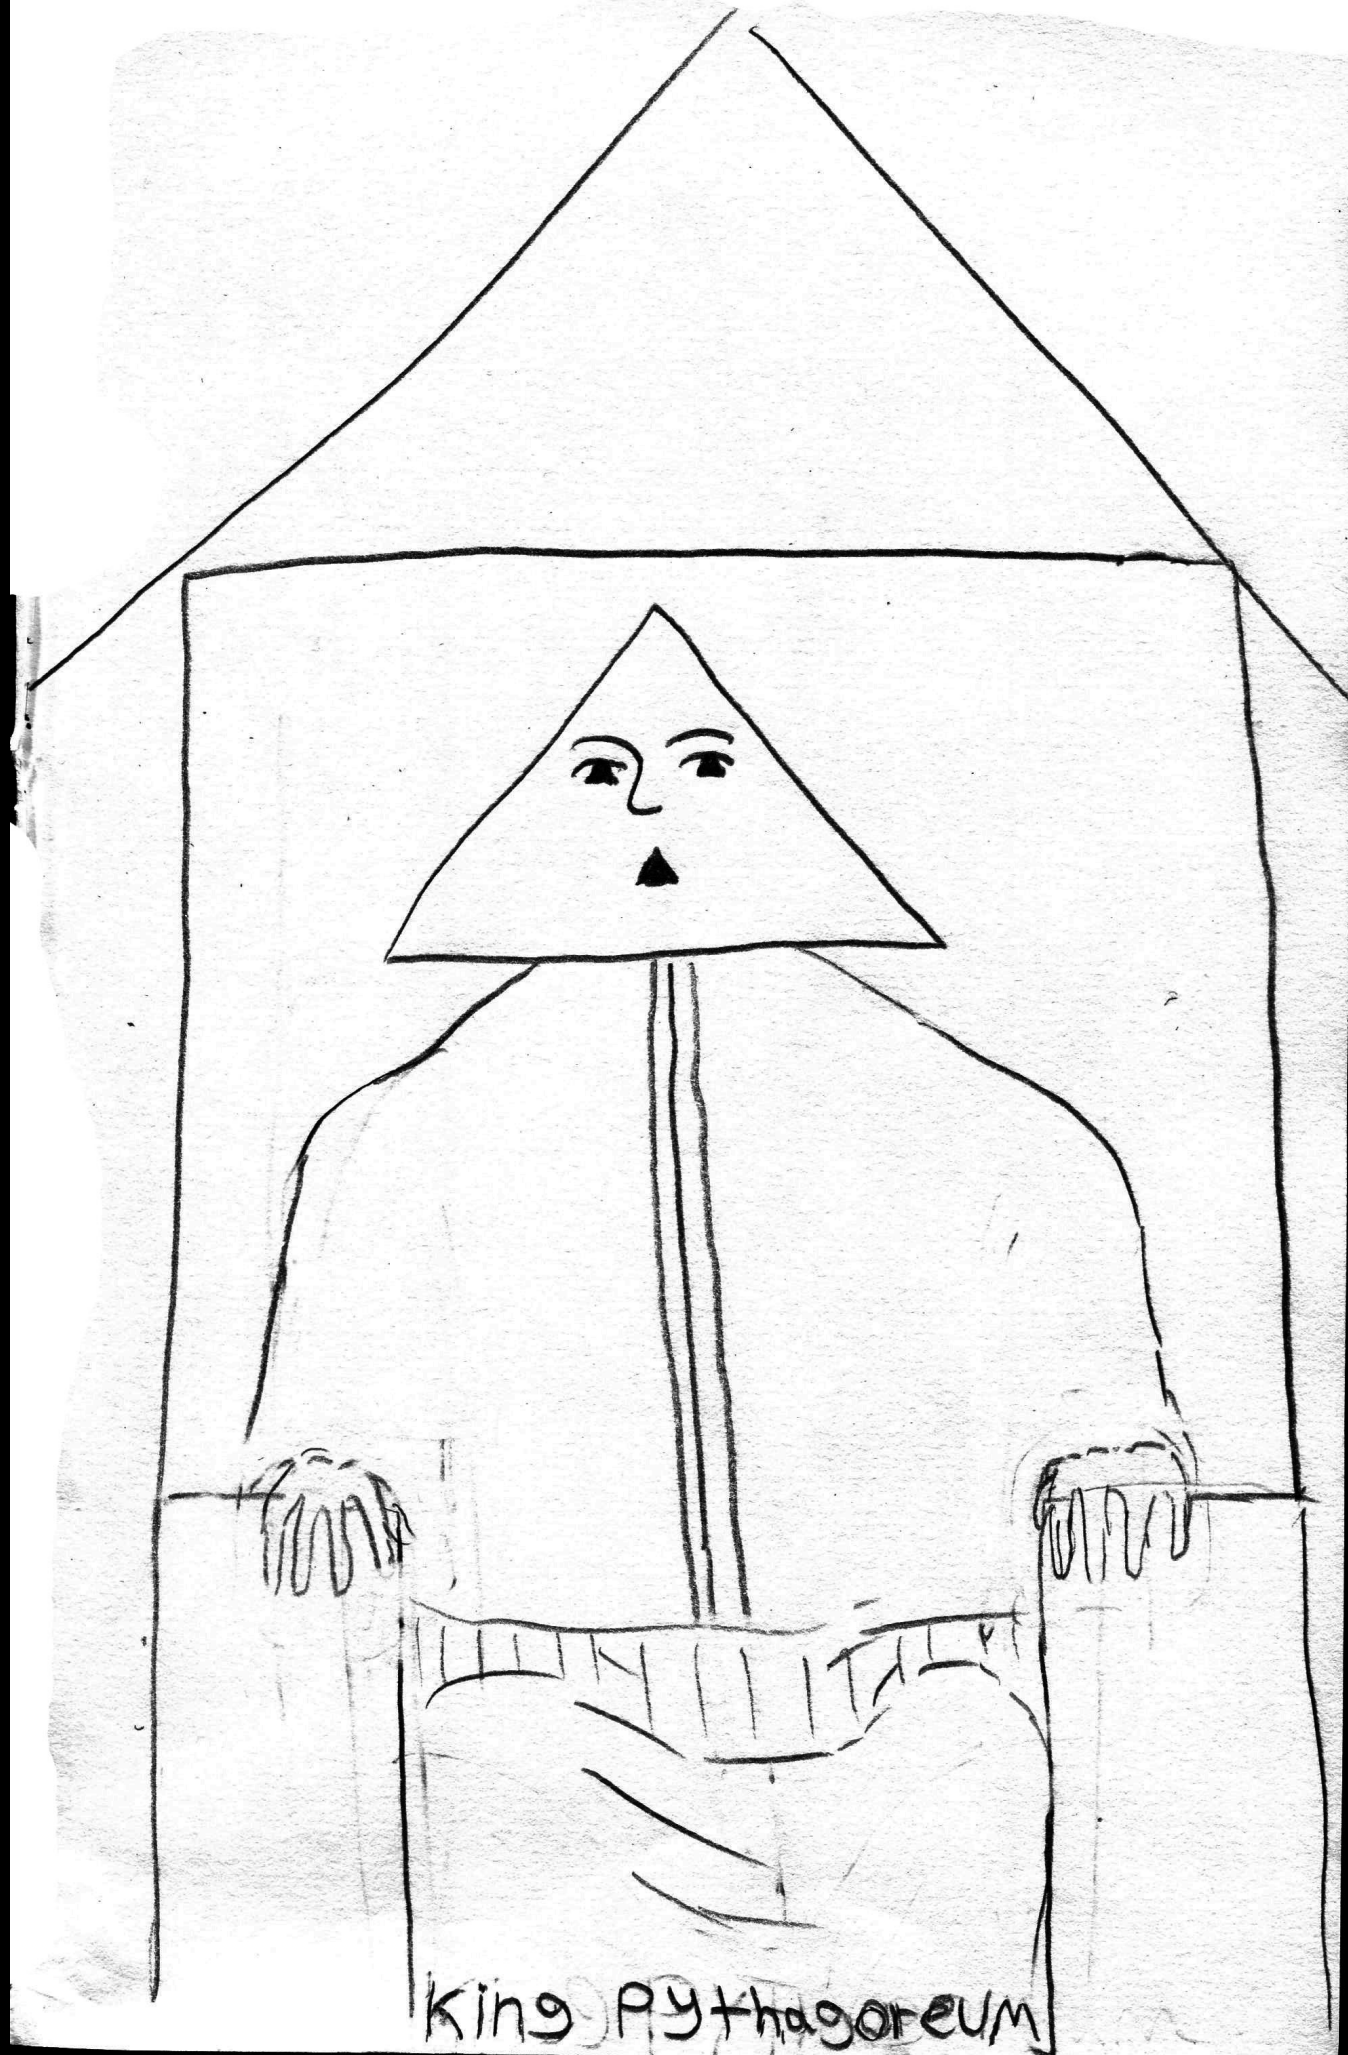

One entered

Gazing into the room sitting on a throne one saw...

King Pythagoreum

one bowed down to the presence of the king

Then the King Spoke

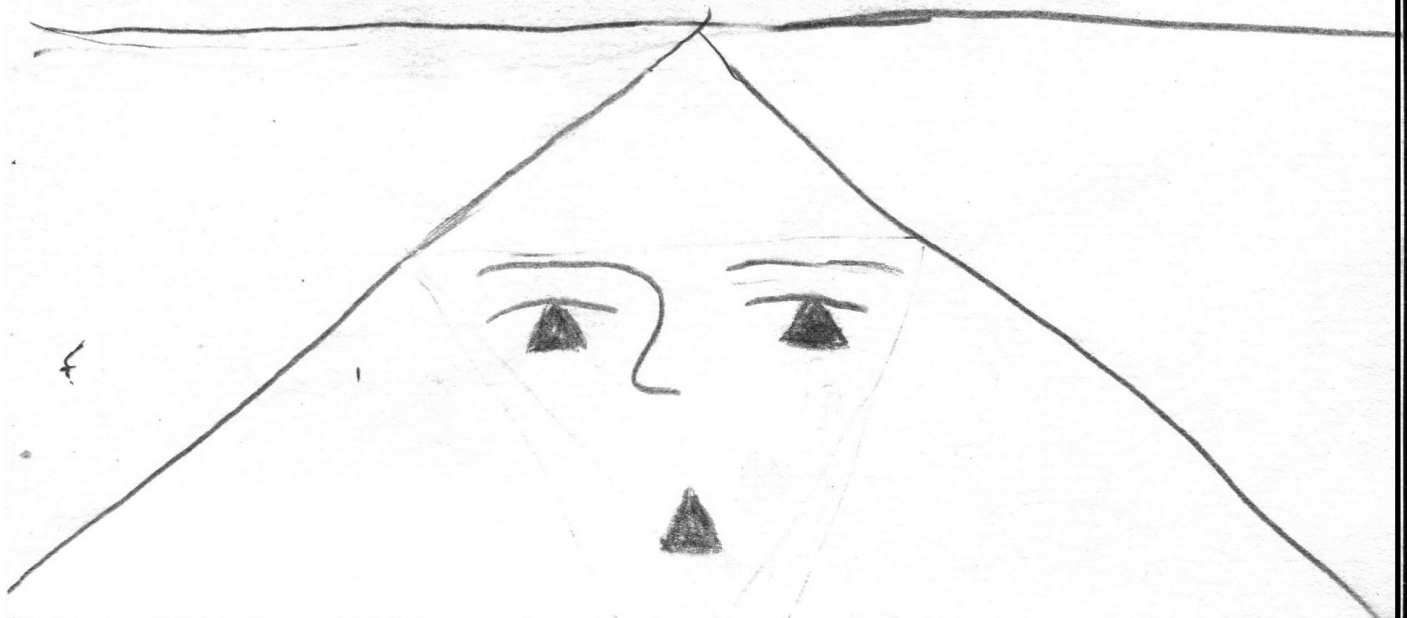

Greetings
Square-
headed one.
My guards informed me
of your situation.

Shape of things in your life are changing and there may be no way back.
you made this decision on your own.

your aimless trek towards Anywhere and the transformation in Squaresville.
you have traveled a long way from home and still have further Journeys.

Square one, I know of an Ancient spell that can reverse your Condition.

I shall perform it now.

Geometris Algyrium Graphicus Calculum Abacus π ones head felt connected in a symbol.

A pattern that would circulate in ones head

"The Shape of things"
Have Changed!

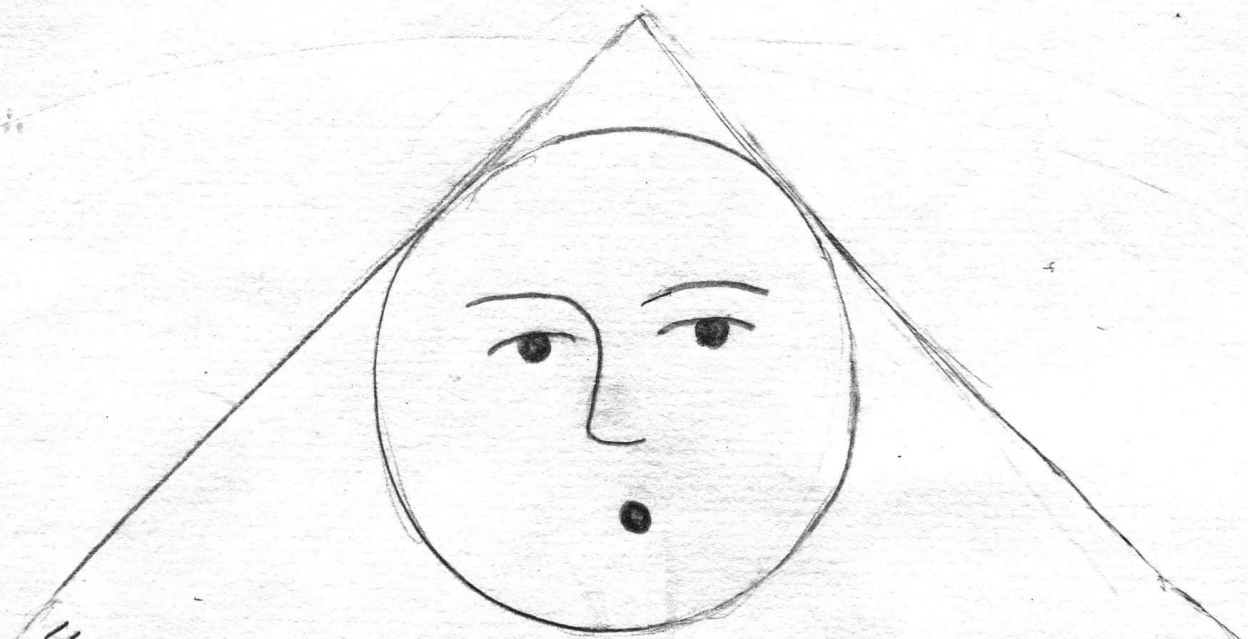

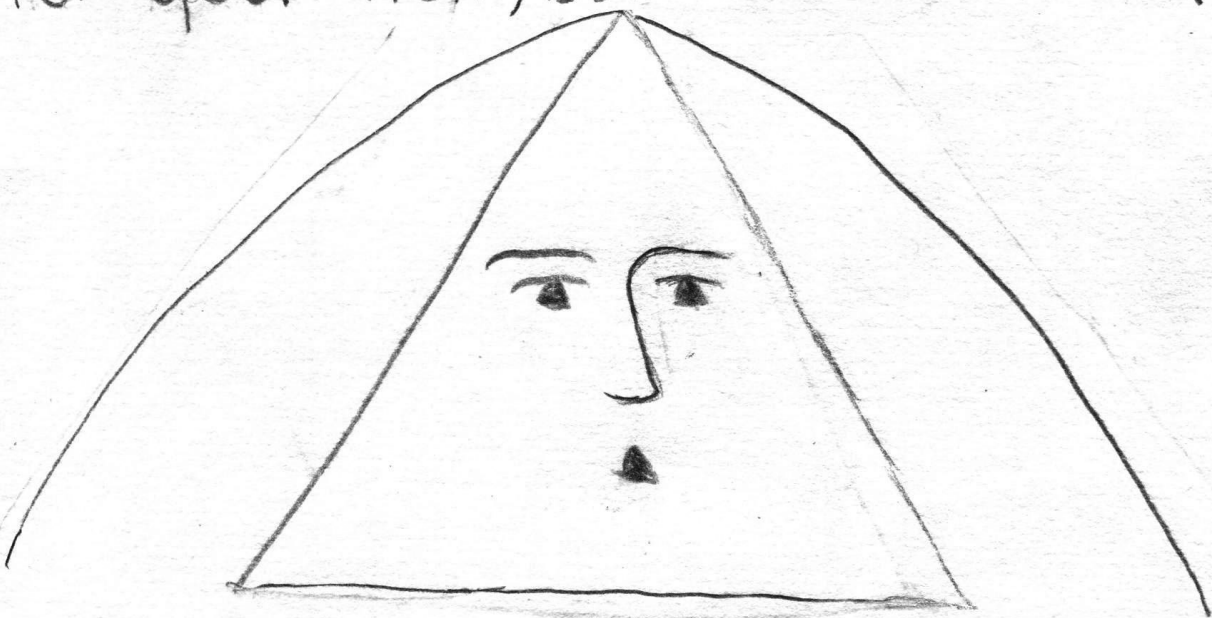

Returning One's Head to Normal.

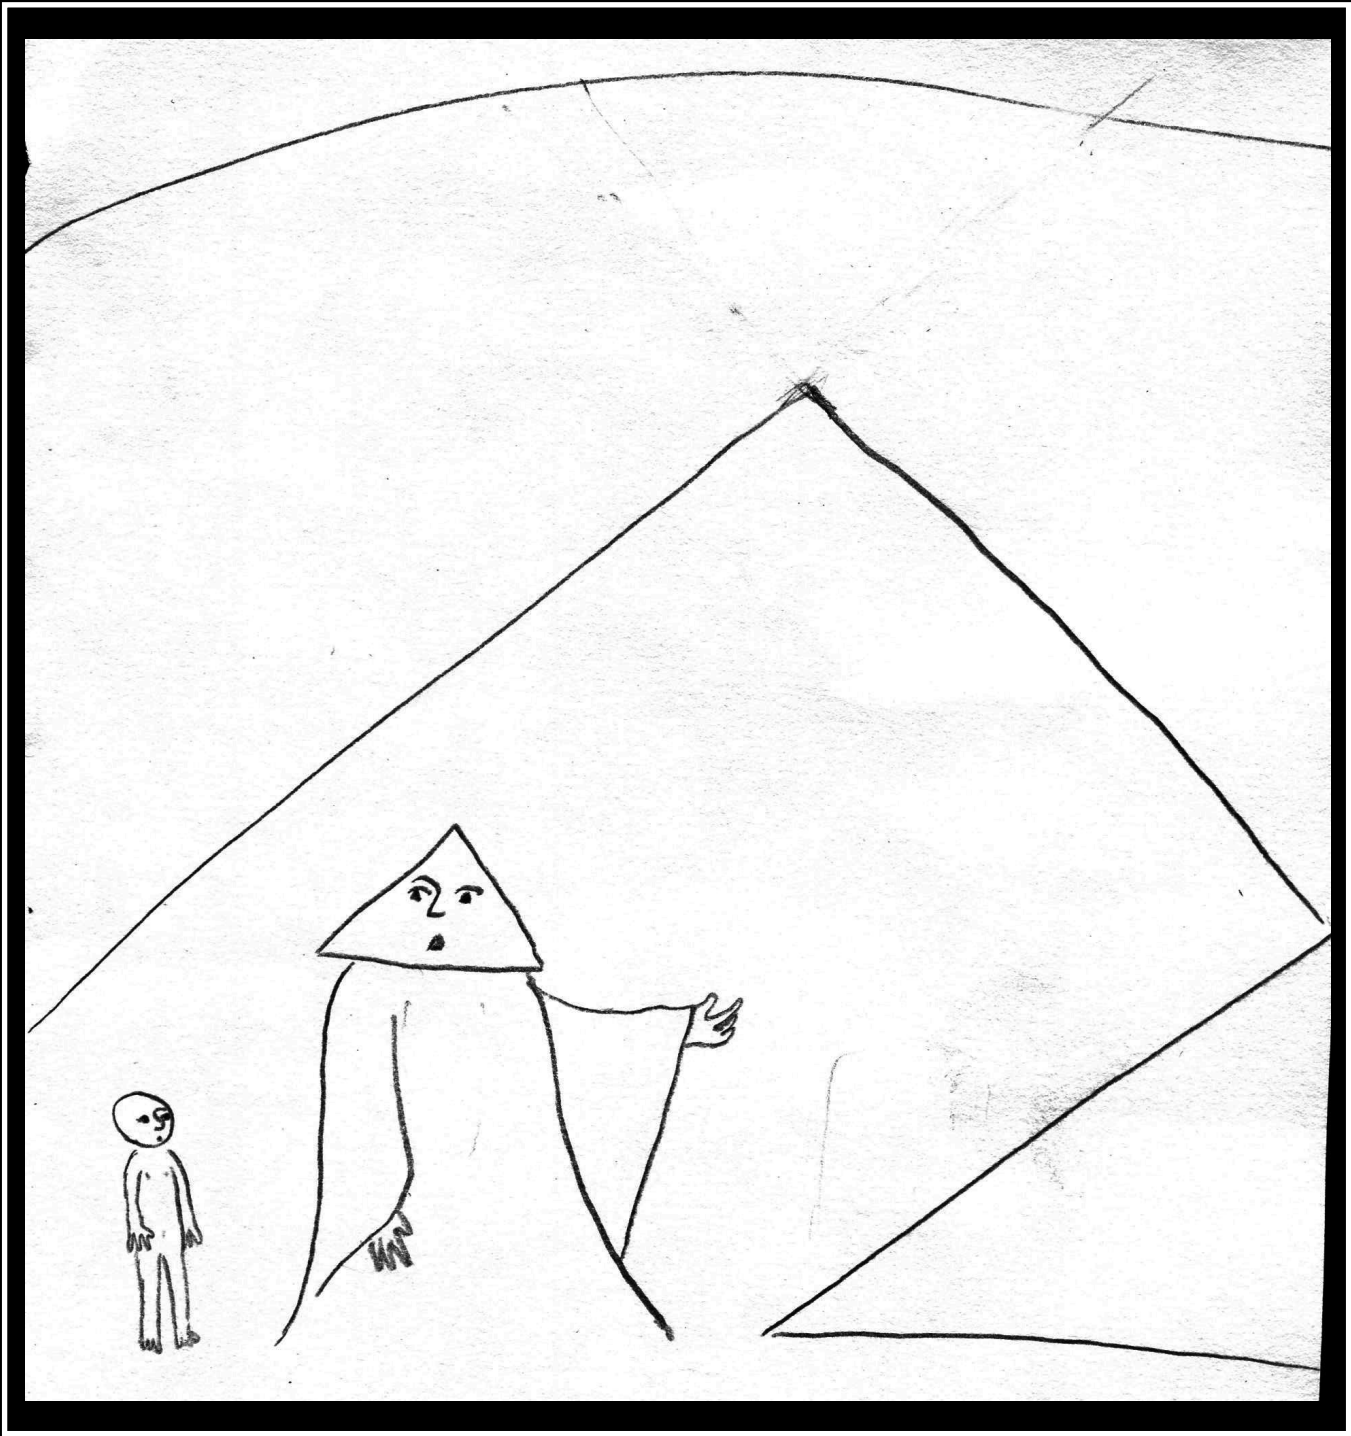

One praised Pythagoream and asked him

"King Pythagoream, I wish to reach Somewhere. I cant stay here, and I rather fire of Squaresville. I thank you for your help, but I must travel Anywhere

"Young One, you are most Welcome for my assistance. AnyWhere is Close

In the darkness, One spotted a flickering light over a double-sided door

The flickering provided a glimpse of a button

One Pressed the button and entered the well lit room and heard a relaxing tune.

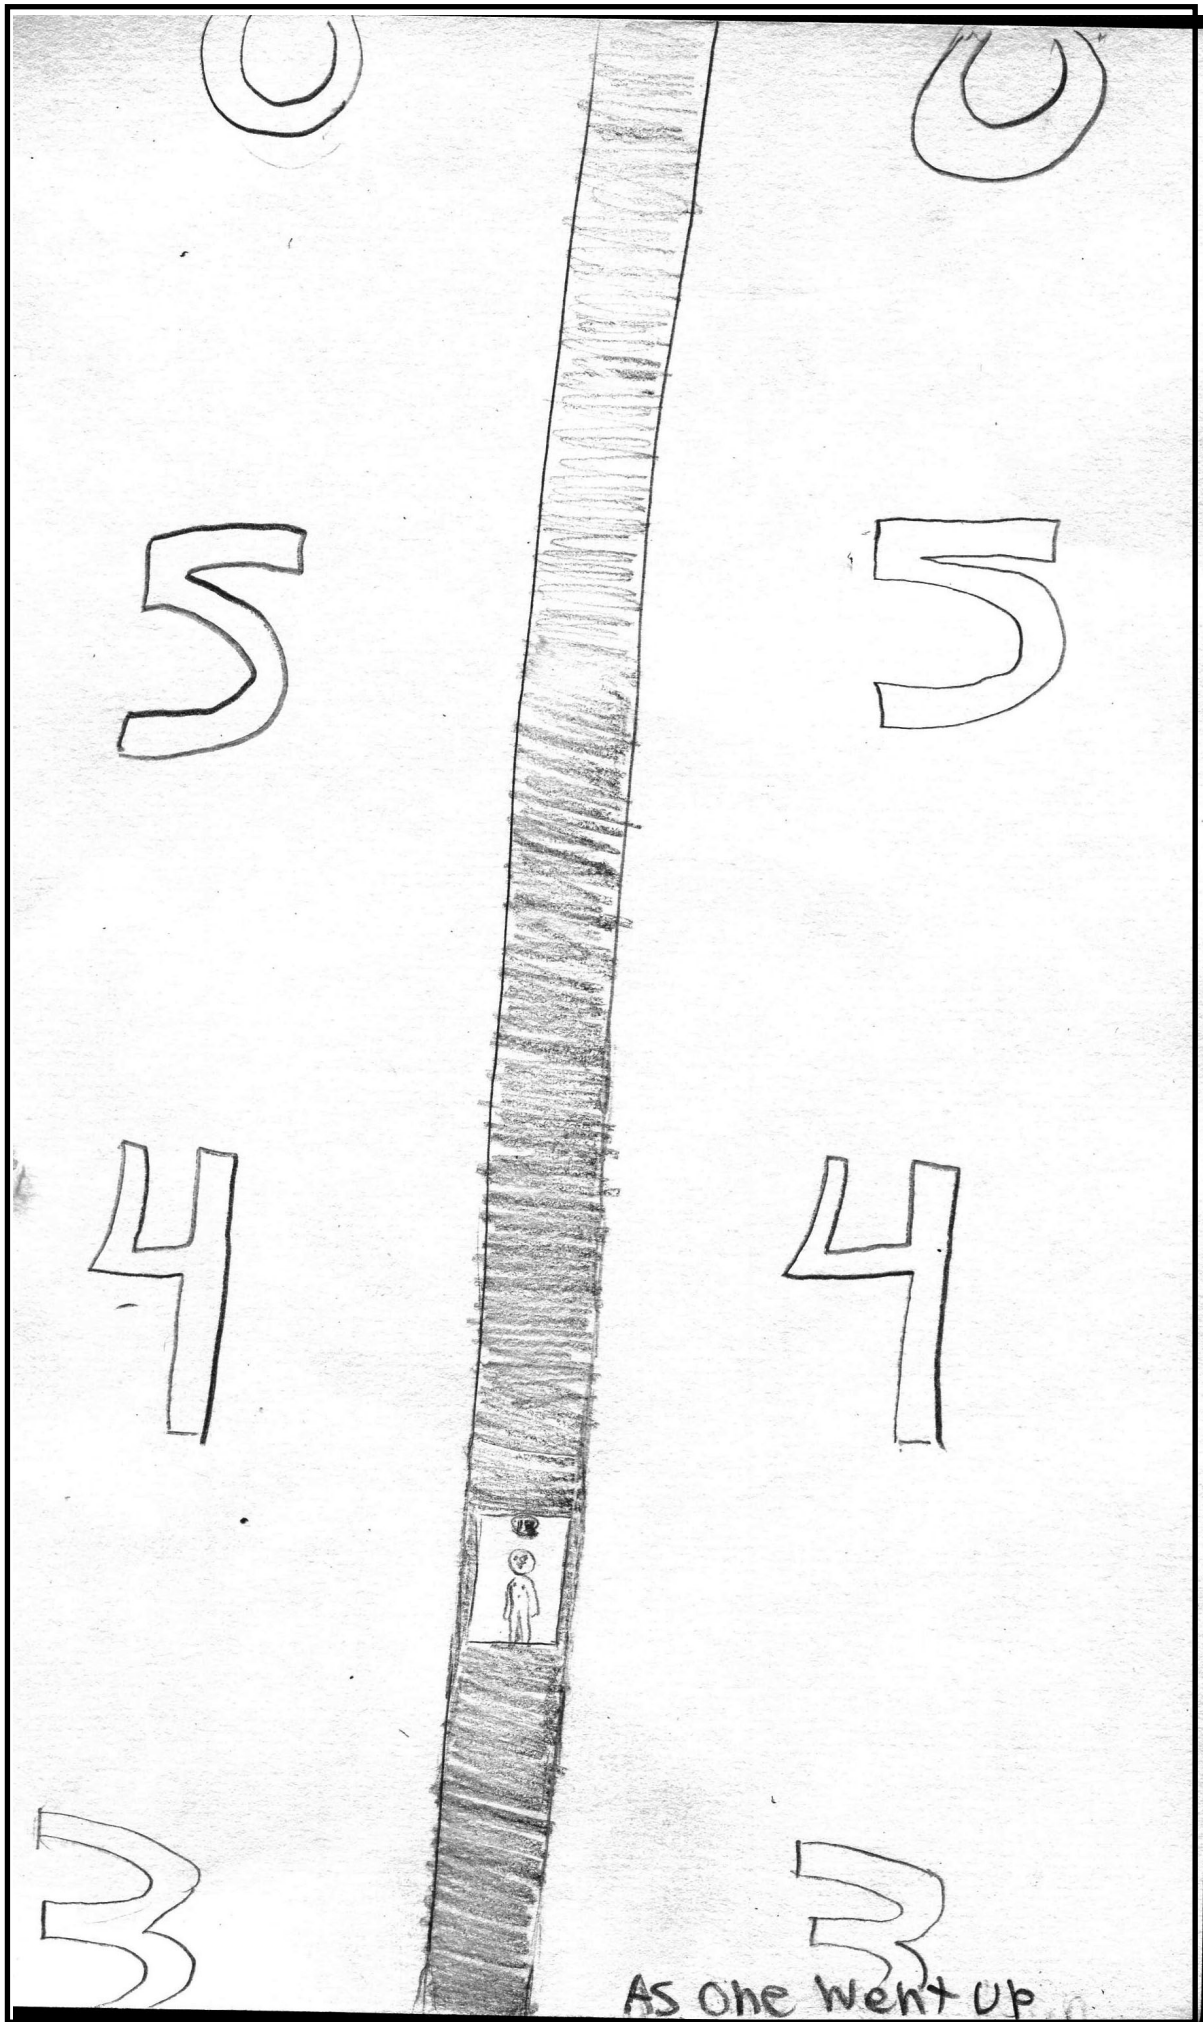

There was a selection on a dial

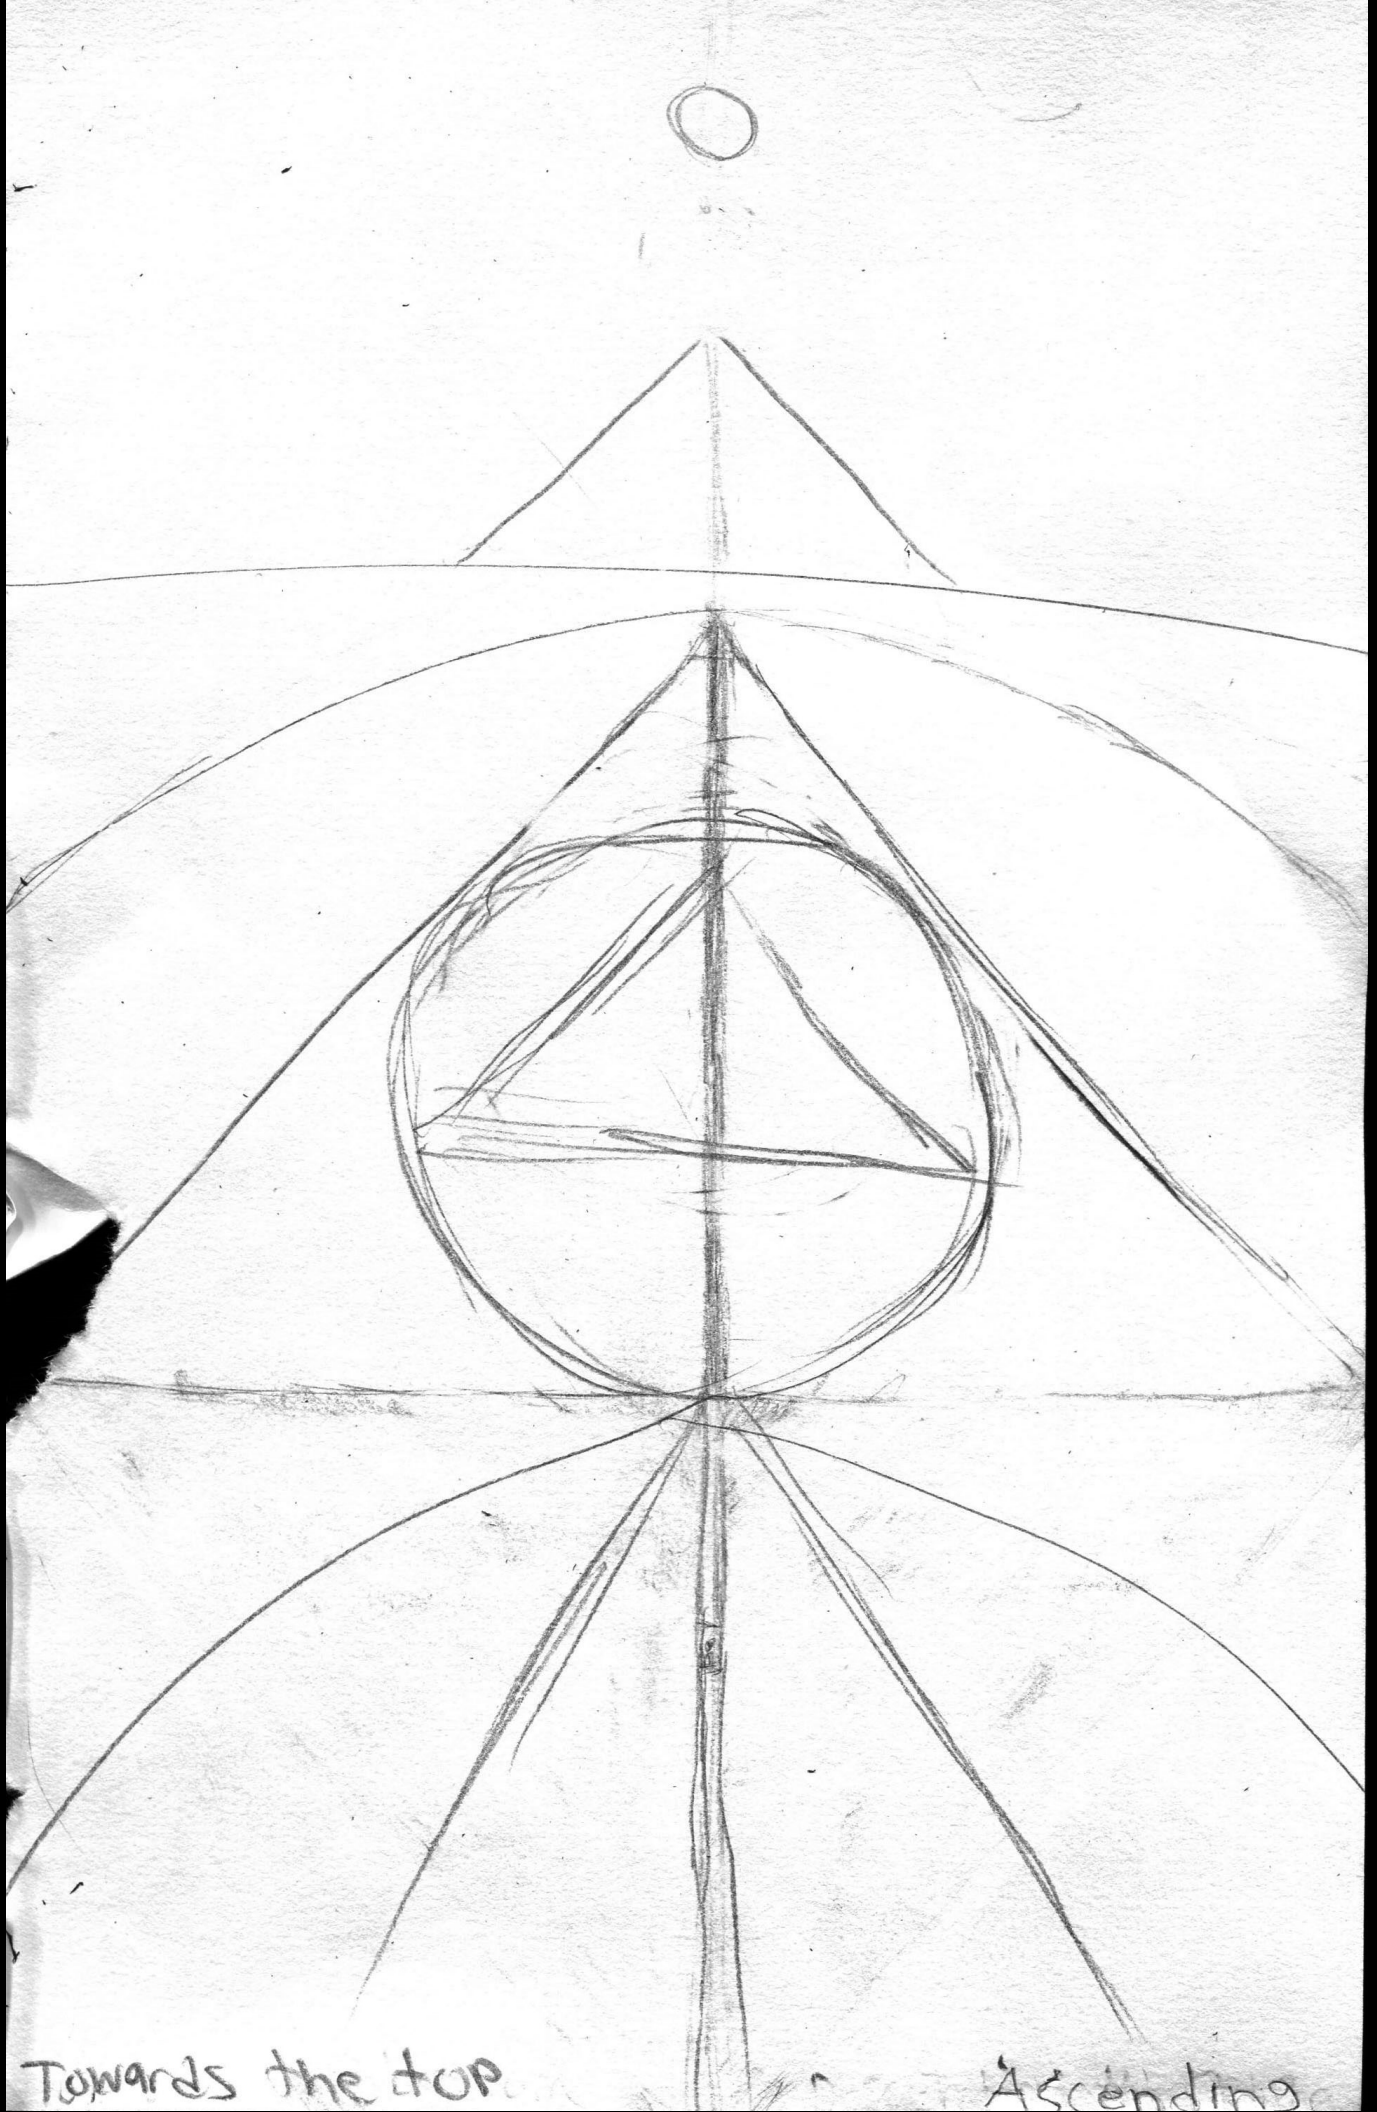

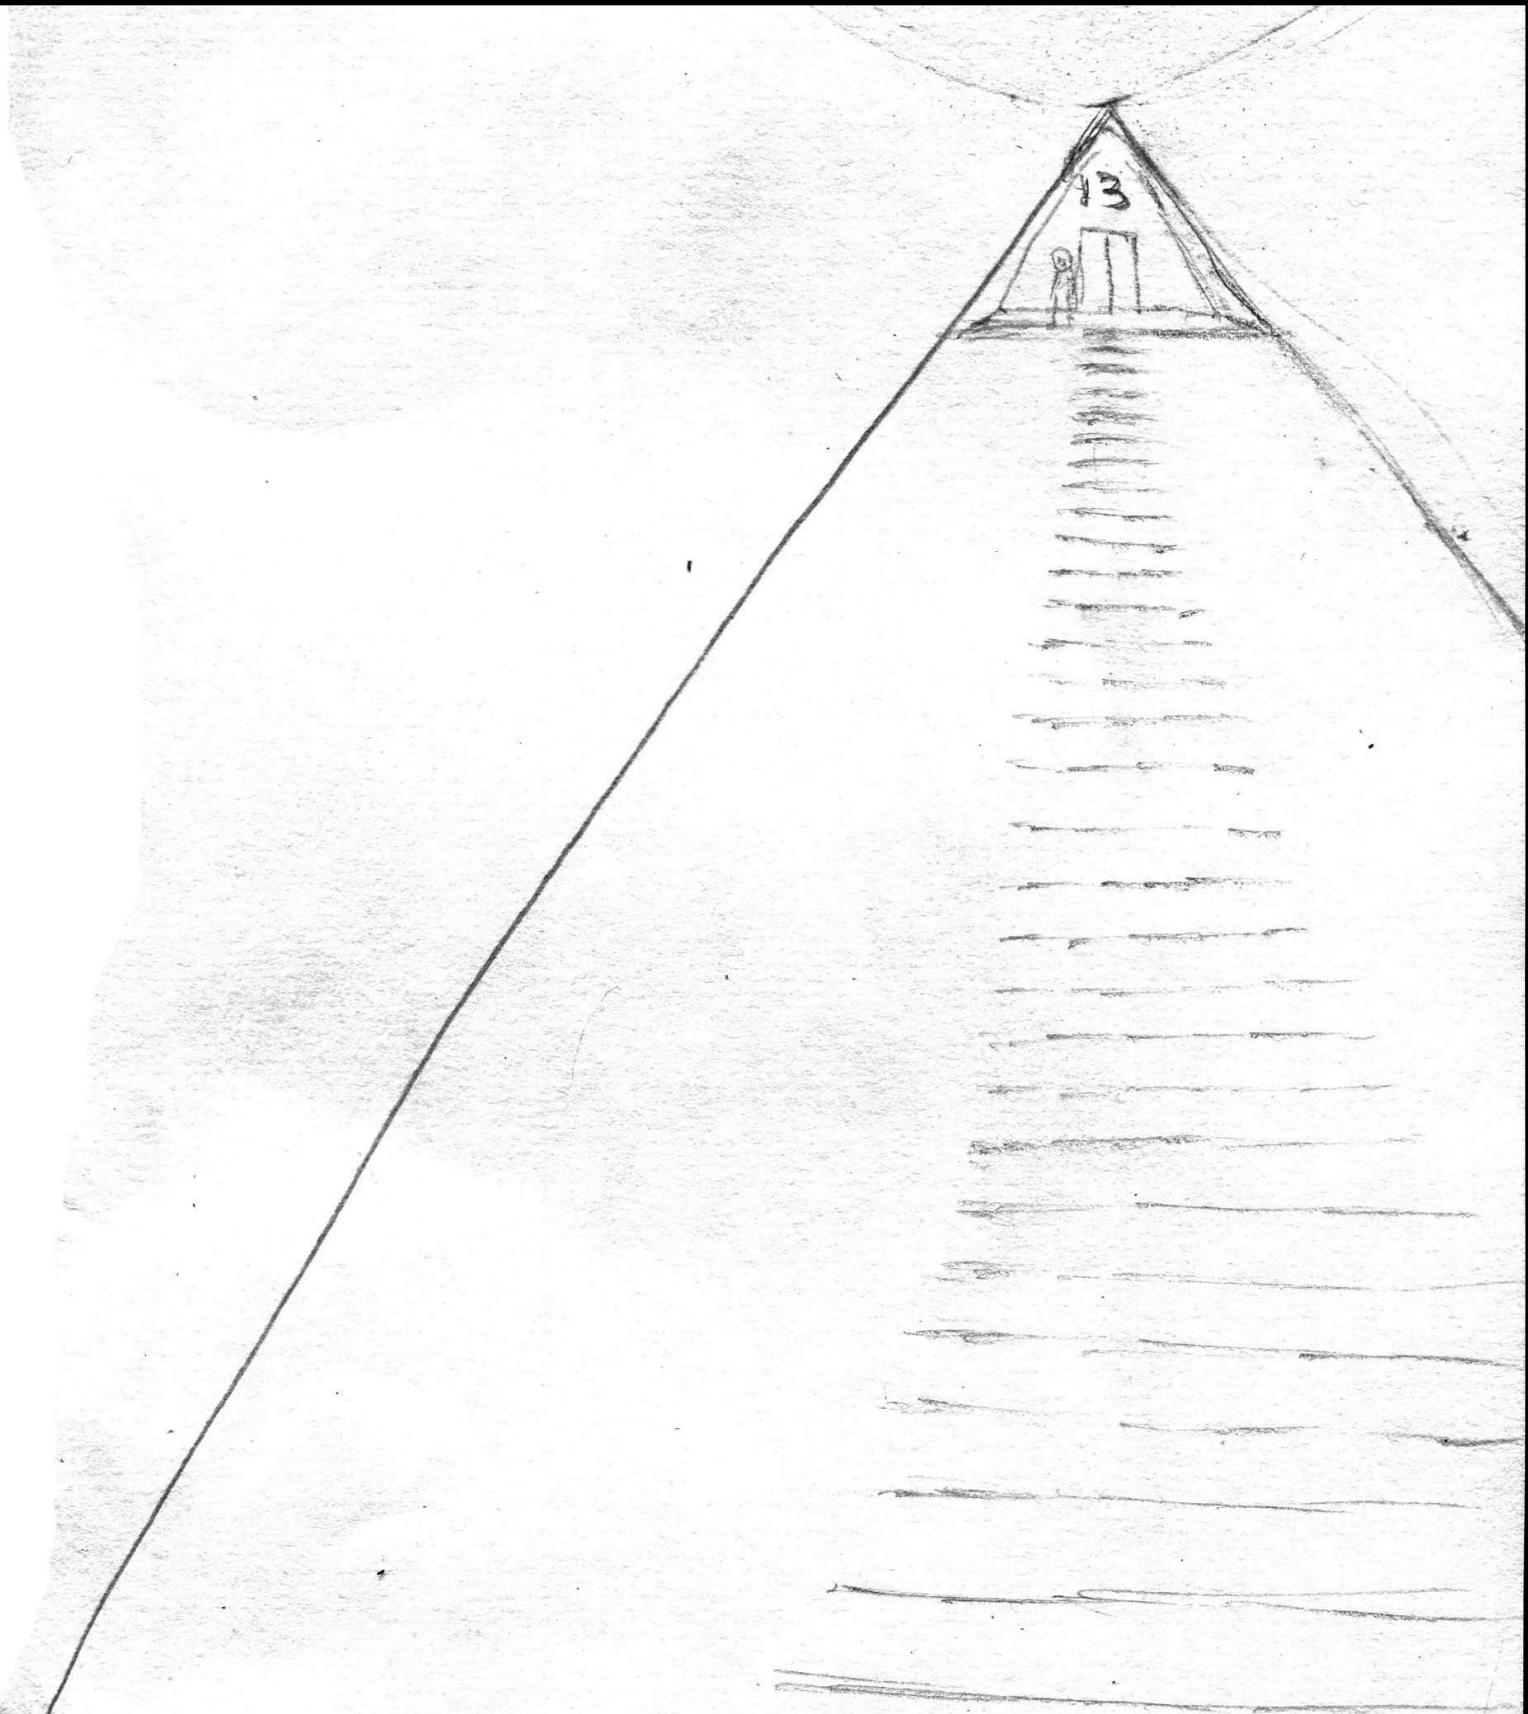

One chose the 13th
and felt the room rumble

One then felt a loss of balance
